

3328 Twenty-Fourth Street @ Osage Alley

1973

SF Public Library

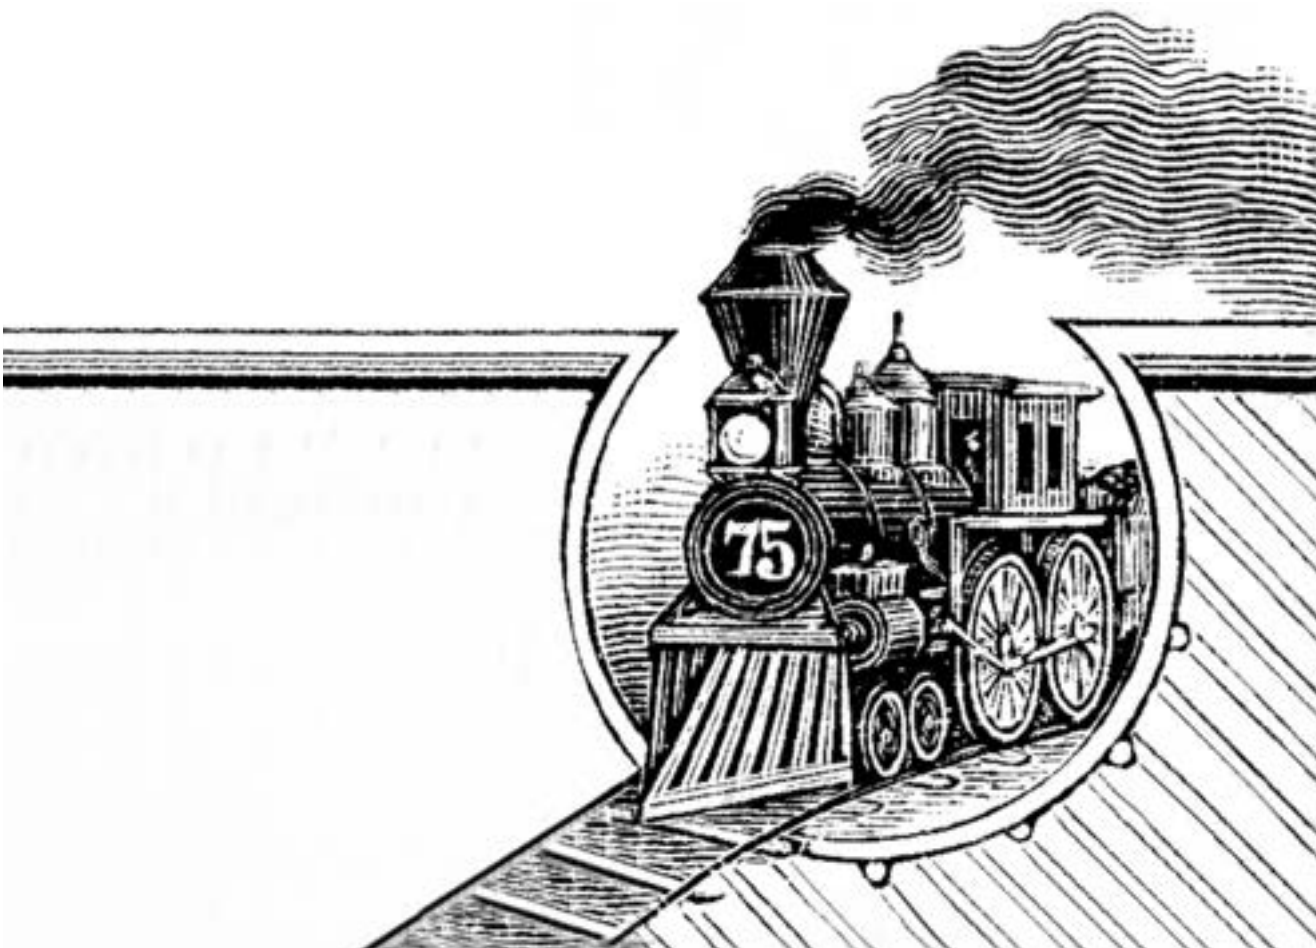

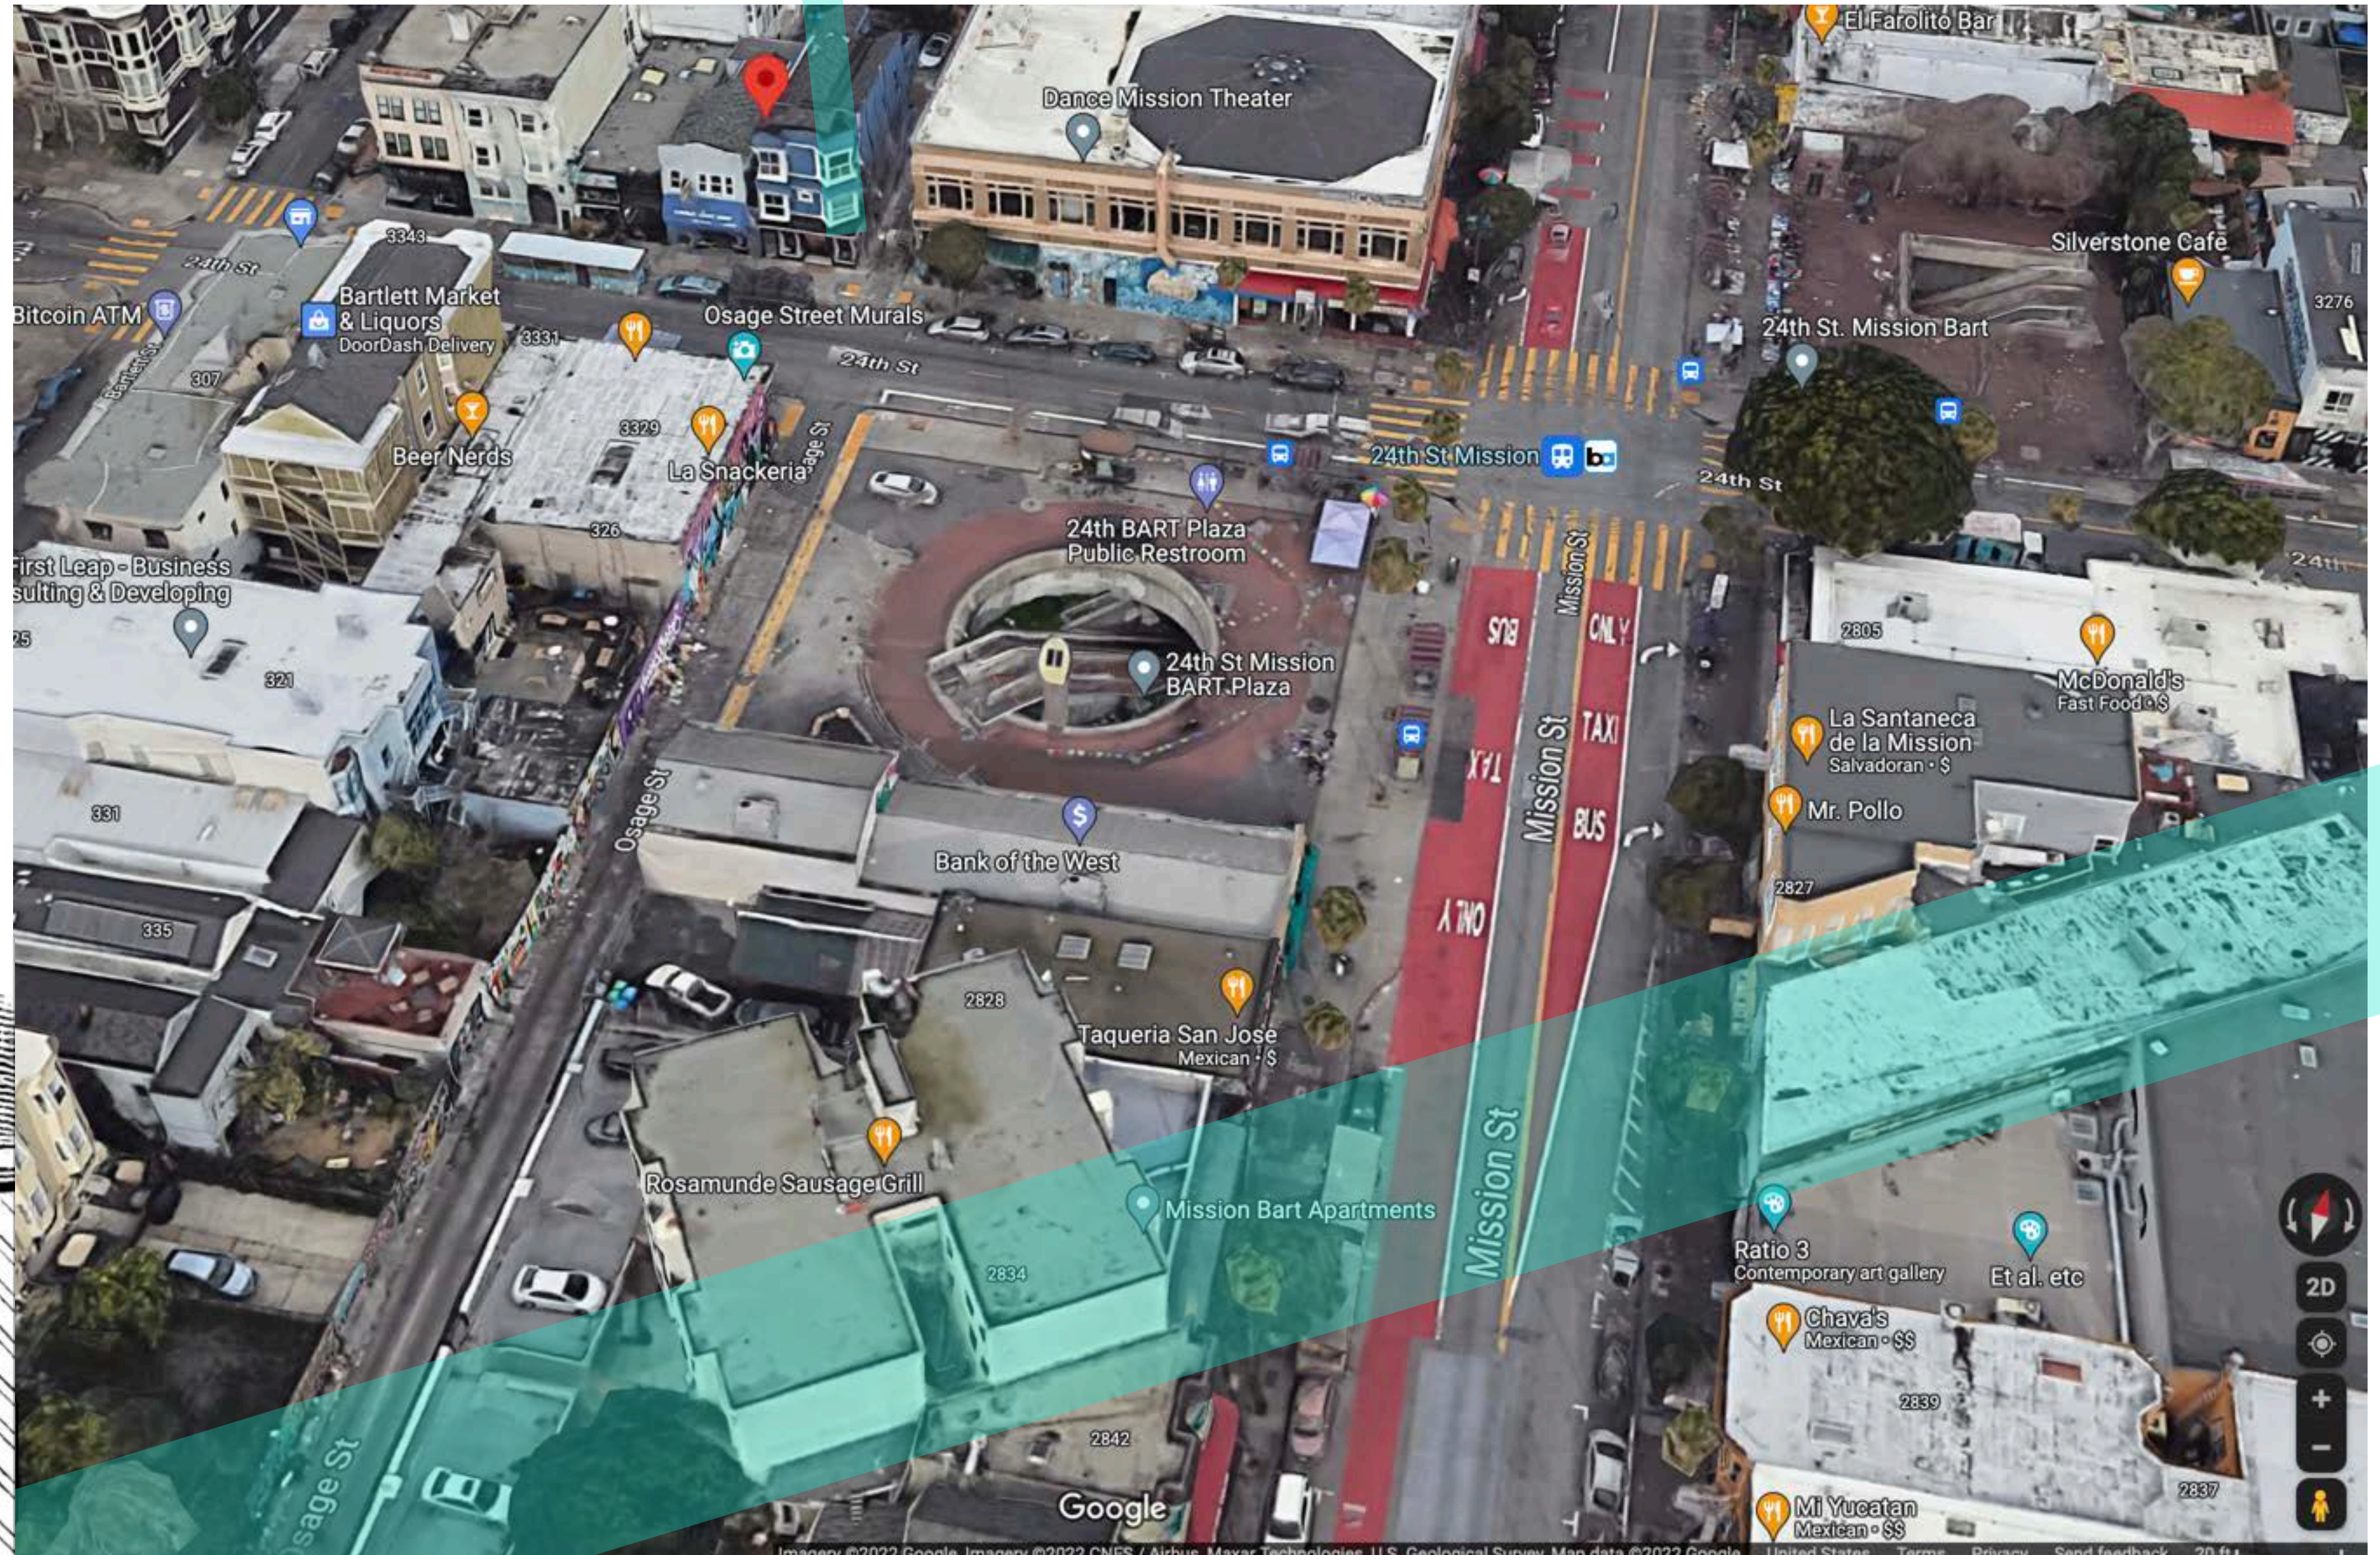

1976-2017

2018 →

Sun-Gathering or Trainspotting?

3328 Twenty-Fourth Street @ Osage Alley

3325 Vacant
3326 Mission Shoe Shop shoe repr
3327 Pac Surgical Gown Co mfrs
MI86632
3328 Gnott John AT22998
3329 Cotage Beauty Salon VA69724
Locke Bernice G beauty shop
3330 Sell-Well Dress Shop AT22662

Wanda

John Gnott

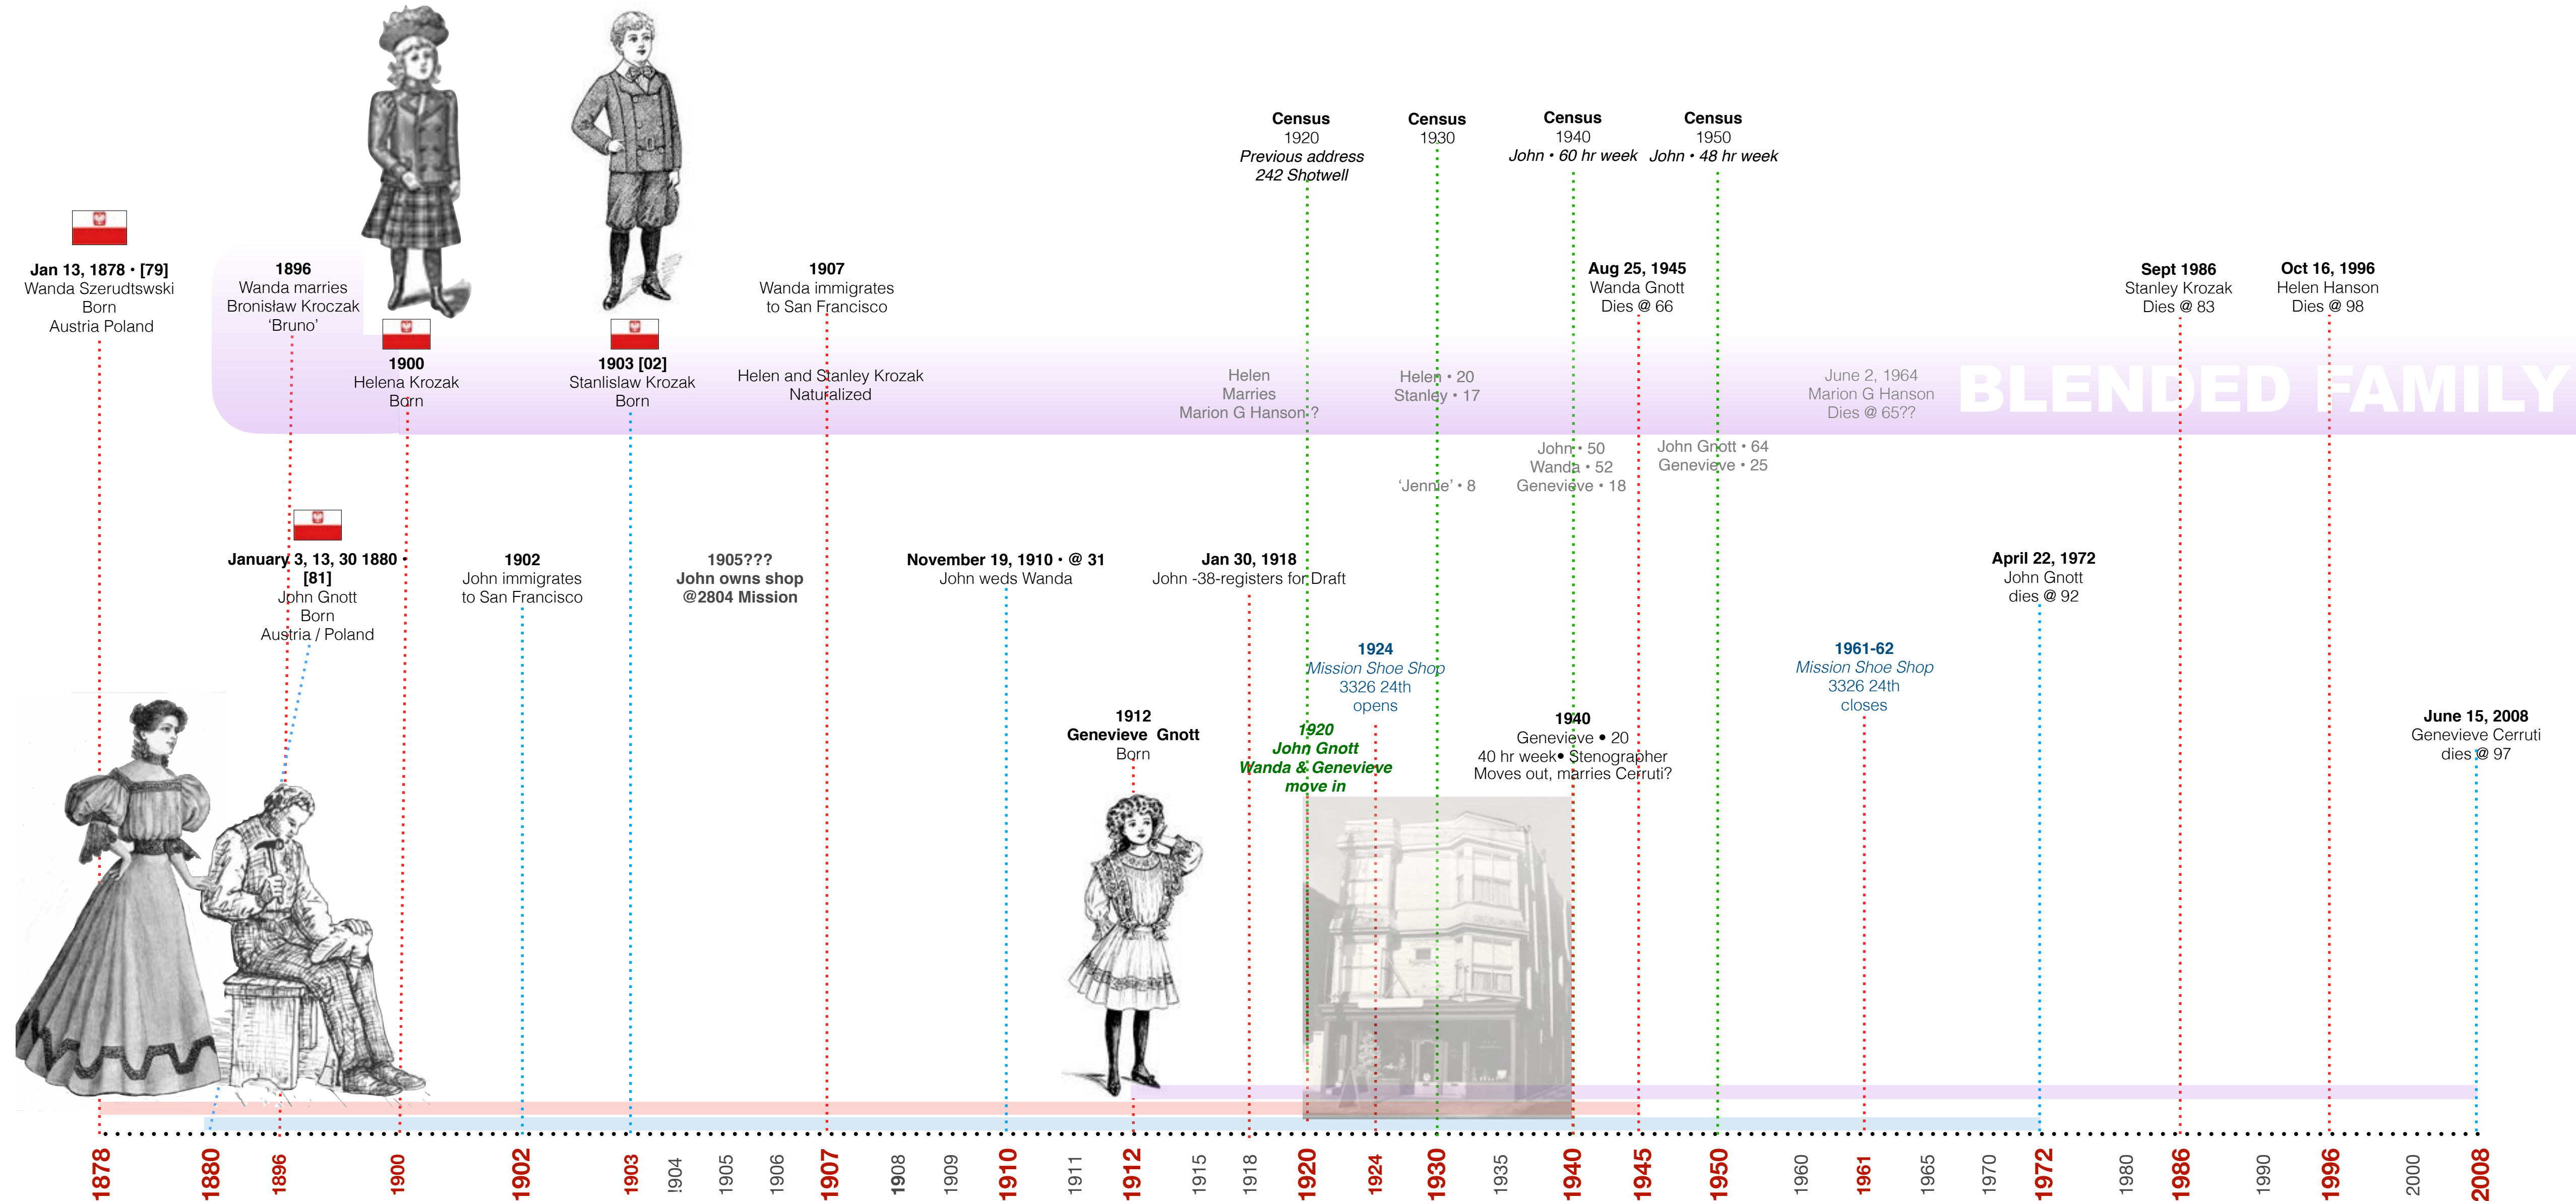

Genevieve

Gnott Timeline 1878 - 1972

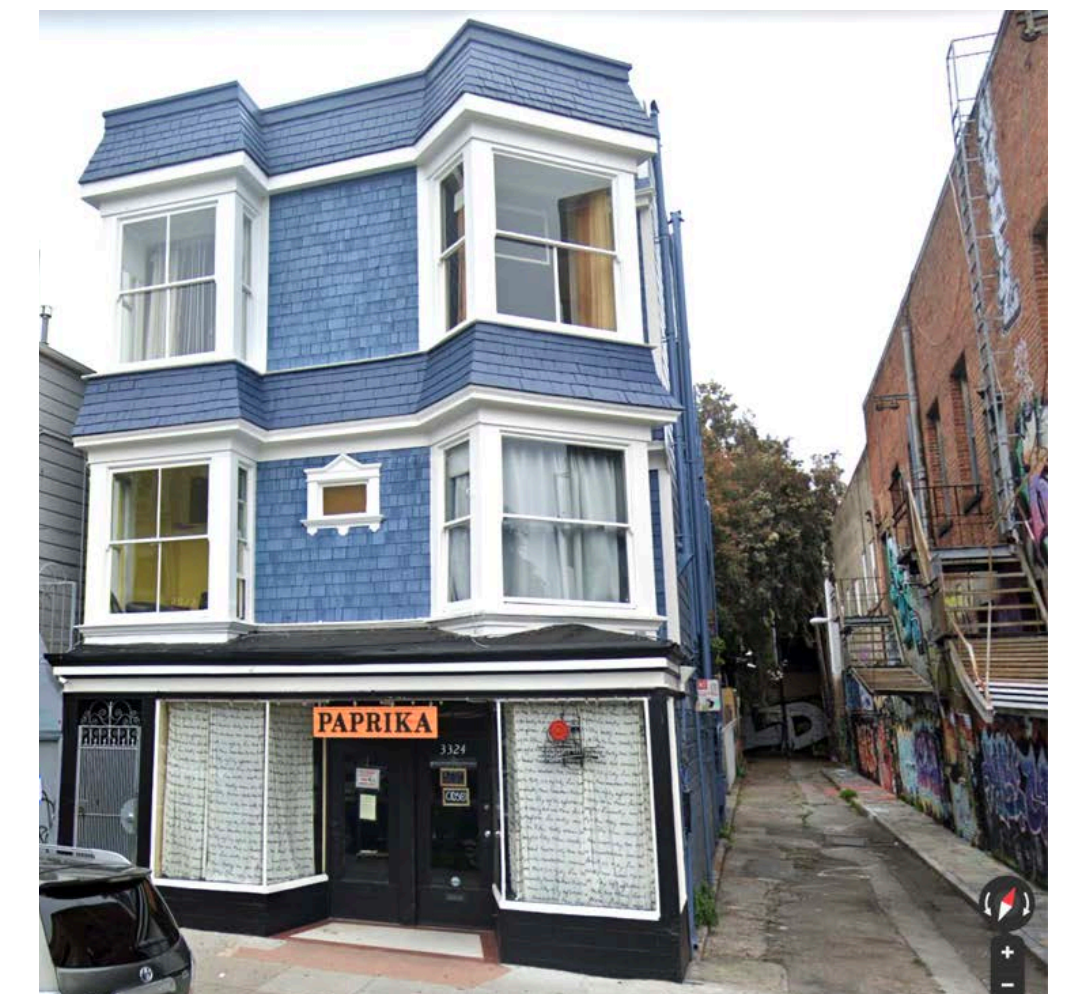

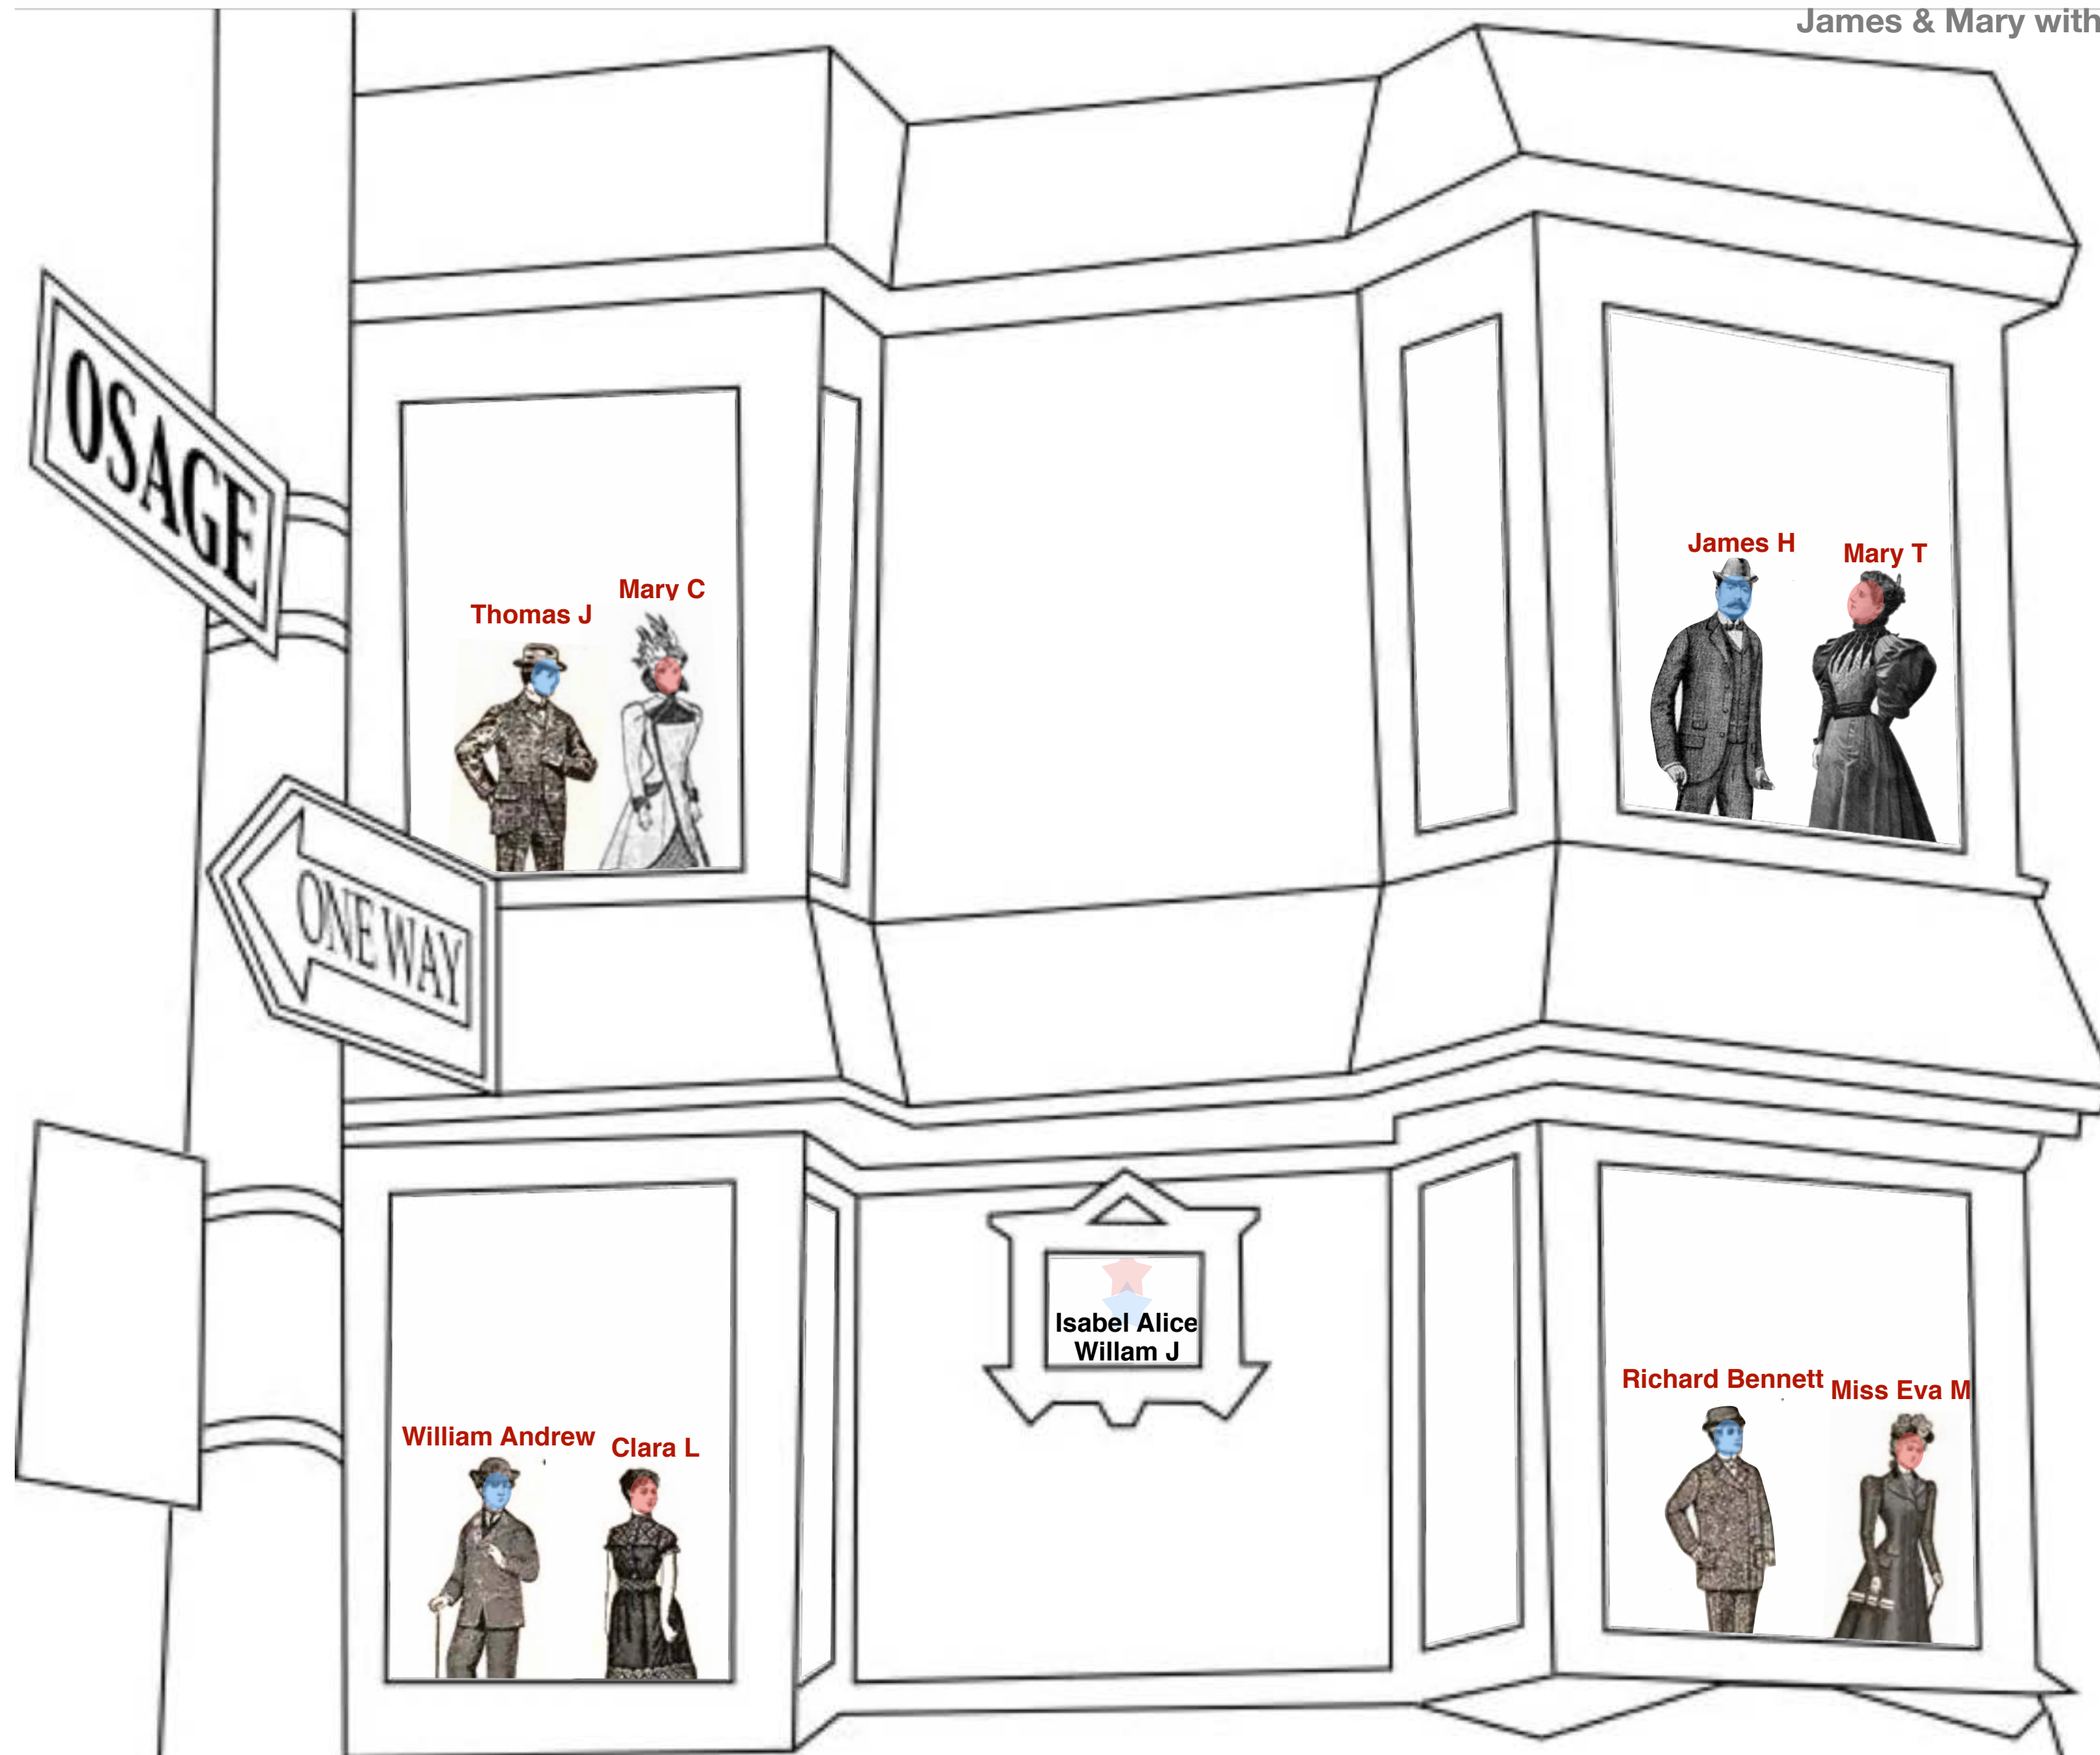

JOHN GNOTT Family

John & Wanda with daughter Genevieve

The McKEE Family

James & Mary with children Mary, Thomas, Eva, Richard, Clara, & William [William J, Isabel Alice]

DATE	DIRECTORY LISTING
1869, 74,75	N s Twenty-fourth bet Mission and Valencia
1872	N s Twenty Fourth bet Bartlett and Mission
1873	N s Twenty Fourth near Mission
1875	cor Mission and 24th
1871, 75, 77	N s Twenty-fourth nr Mission
1876, 80-81	N s 24th between Mission and Bartlett
1877	N s 24th, nr Miss
1877	24th nr Mission
1883,84	805 24th Street
1885-94	807 24th Street
1895-96	612 24th
1897	3328 24th

The McKEE Family

Births • 1833-1880

James H McKee
born
1833

Mary T Bennett
born
1843

Mary T
weds
James H McKee
1861

Mary C
born
June 1862

Thomas Joseph
born
June 1865-6

Eva M (E)
born
February 1867-8

Richard Bennett
born
1870

Clara L
born
1871-2

Isabel Alice
born & dies
3 months
1873

Wm J
born & dies
12 days
1876

William Andrew
born 1880

1833

1834

1834

1835

1836

1837

1838

1839

1840

1841

1842

1843

1844

1845

1846

1847

1848

1849

1850

1851

1852

1853

1854

1855

1856

1857

1858

1859

1860

1861

1862

1863

1864

1865

1866

1867

1868

1869

1870

1871

1872

1873

1874

1875

1876

1877

1878

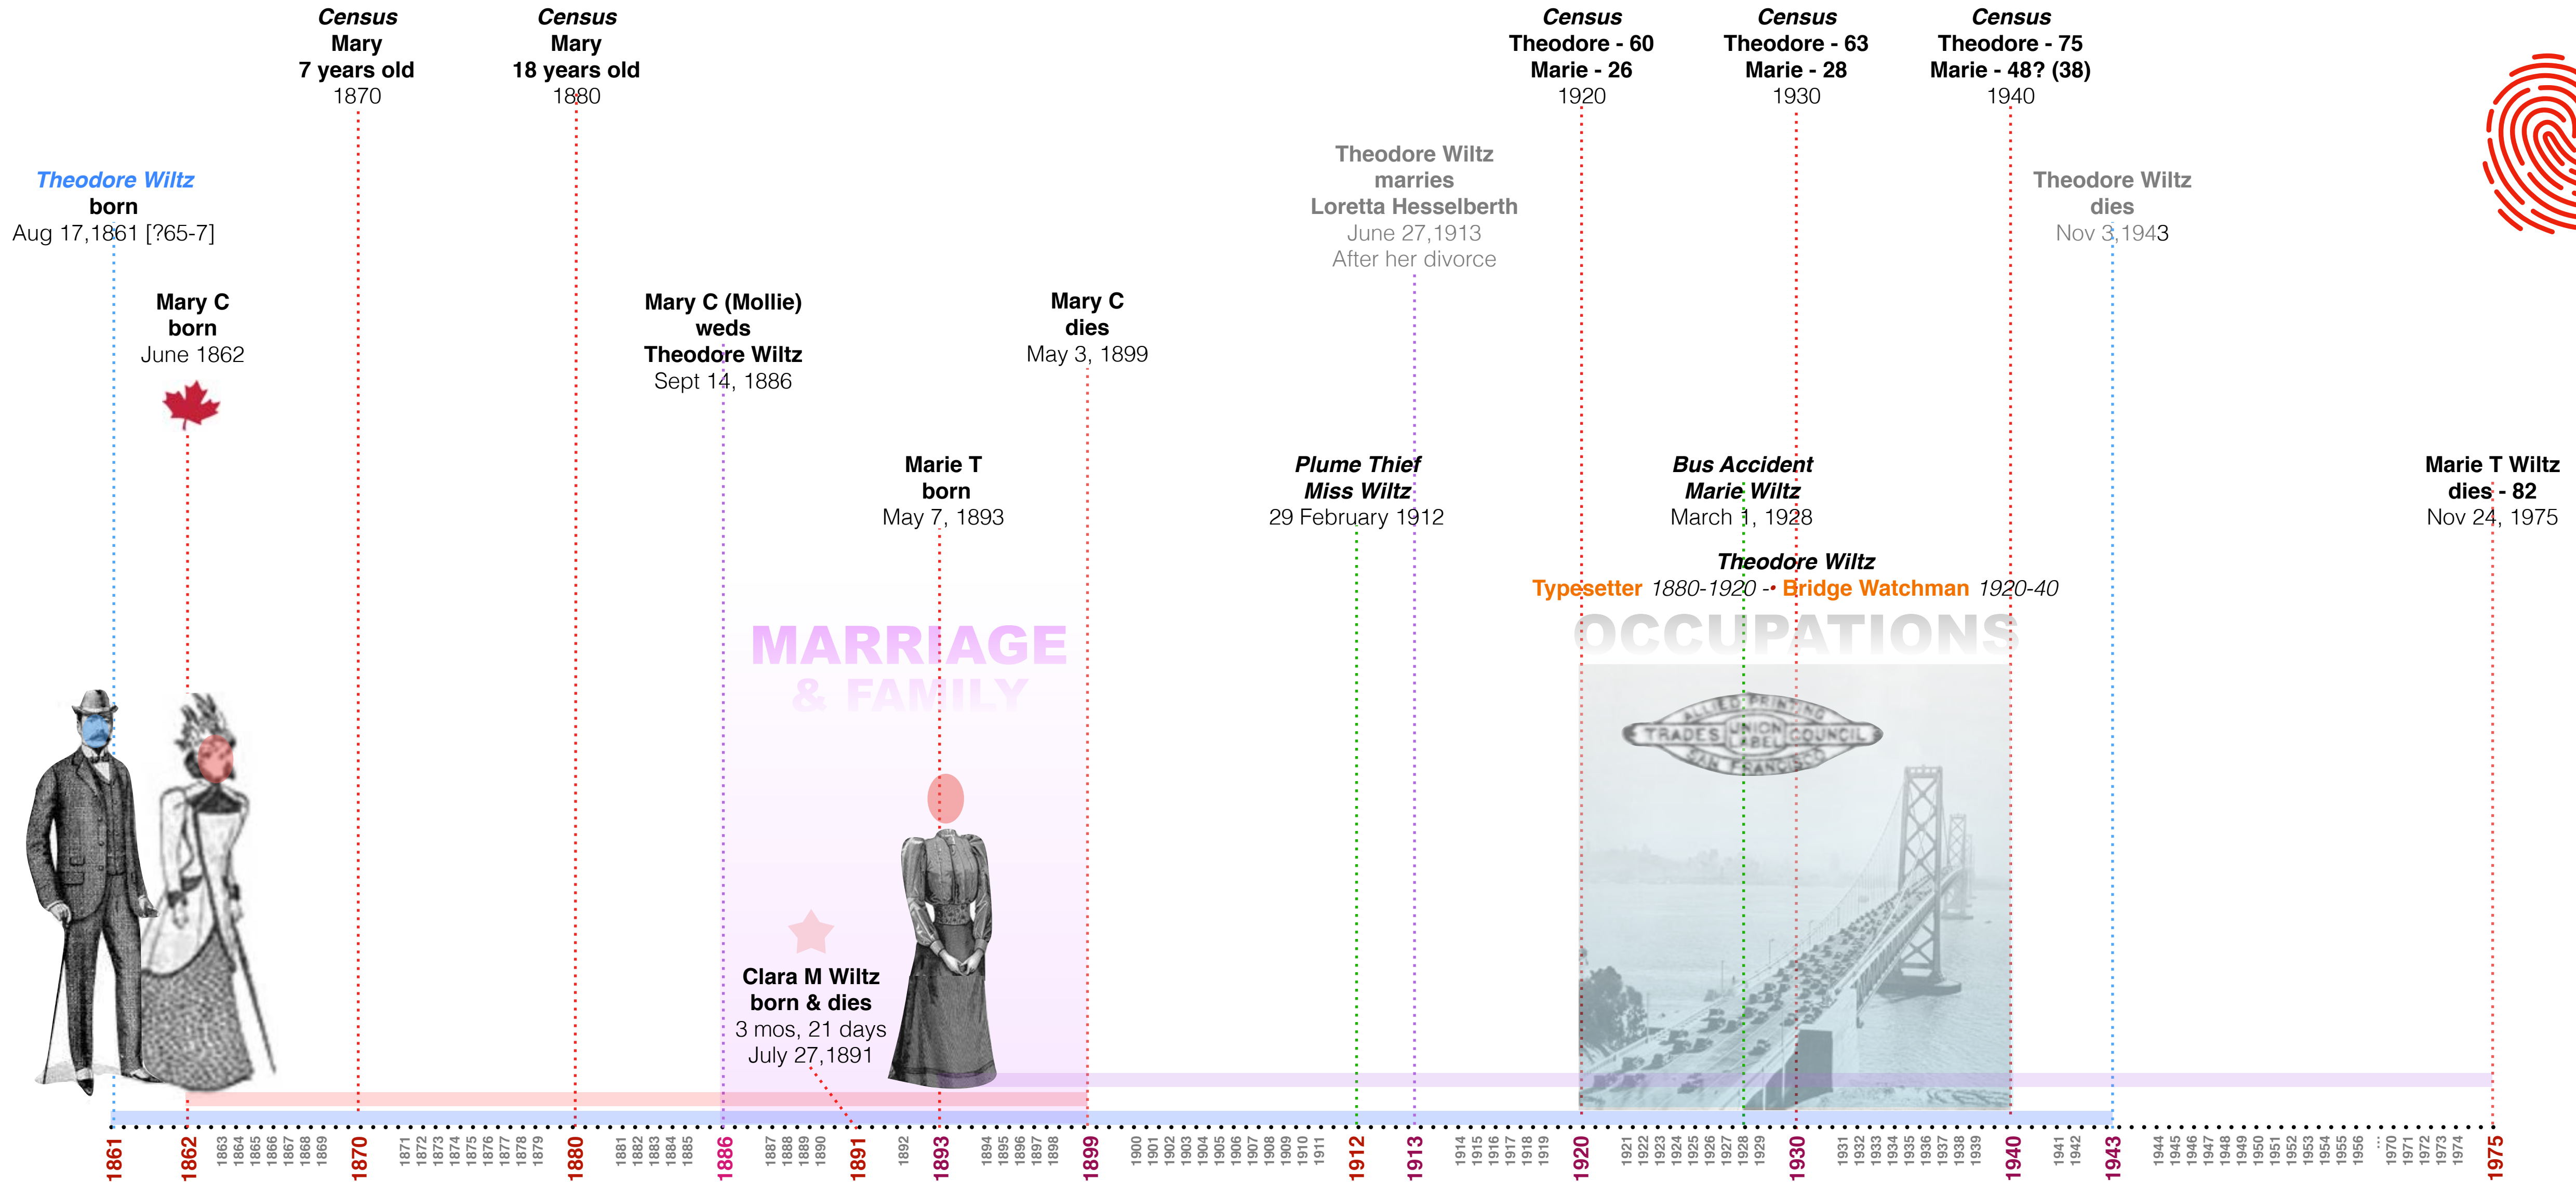

1879

1880

Mary C McKee Wiltz • 1862-1975

Theodore 1861-1943 • Marie T 1893-1975

MARY C

Thomas Joseph McKee • 1865-1904

THOMAS JOSEPH

Thomas Joseph
aka James Thomas
born
June 1865-6

Census
Thomas
4 years old
1870

Census
Thomas J
14 years old
1880

Census
James T
35 years old
1900

Father threatens
James T Jr.
1891

James T. McKee sues Market-street Railway Company for damages of $299 99. After paying his fare on Valencia street car 17, August 23, he was thrown off by the conductor and injured so as to lay him up for a week.

September 30, 1894

Thomas Joseph
registers to vote
1892

Thomas Joseph-35
dies
September 25, 1904

Eva M McKee, Evalyn, Eva E • 1867-1919

EVA M

Eva M (E)
born
February 1867-8

Census
'Ellen'
2 years old
1870

Census
'Eva M'
12 years old
1880

Census
'Evaline'
33 years old
1900

Census
'Eva'
43 years old
1910

Eva Graduates
Girls High School
May 27, 1885

Miss Eva McKee, a probationer, was also made a regular teacher
September 1, 1892

Miss Eva becomes a regular teacher
June 25, 1896

Miss Eva, probationary teacher, assigned to the
Columbia Grammar School
May 30, 1895

Miss Eva begins teaching 1892

Eva receives house
as a gift from Mother.
November 10, 1902

Eva McKee makes the long list of credentialed teachers
January 18, 1902

1st Grade Teacher
Columbia Cosmopolitan Grammar
1892-1919

OCCUPATION

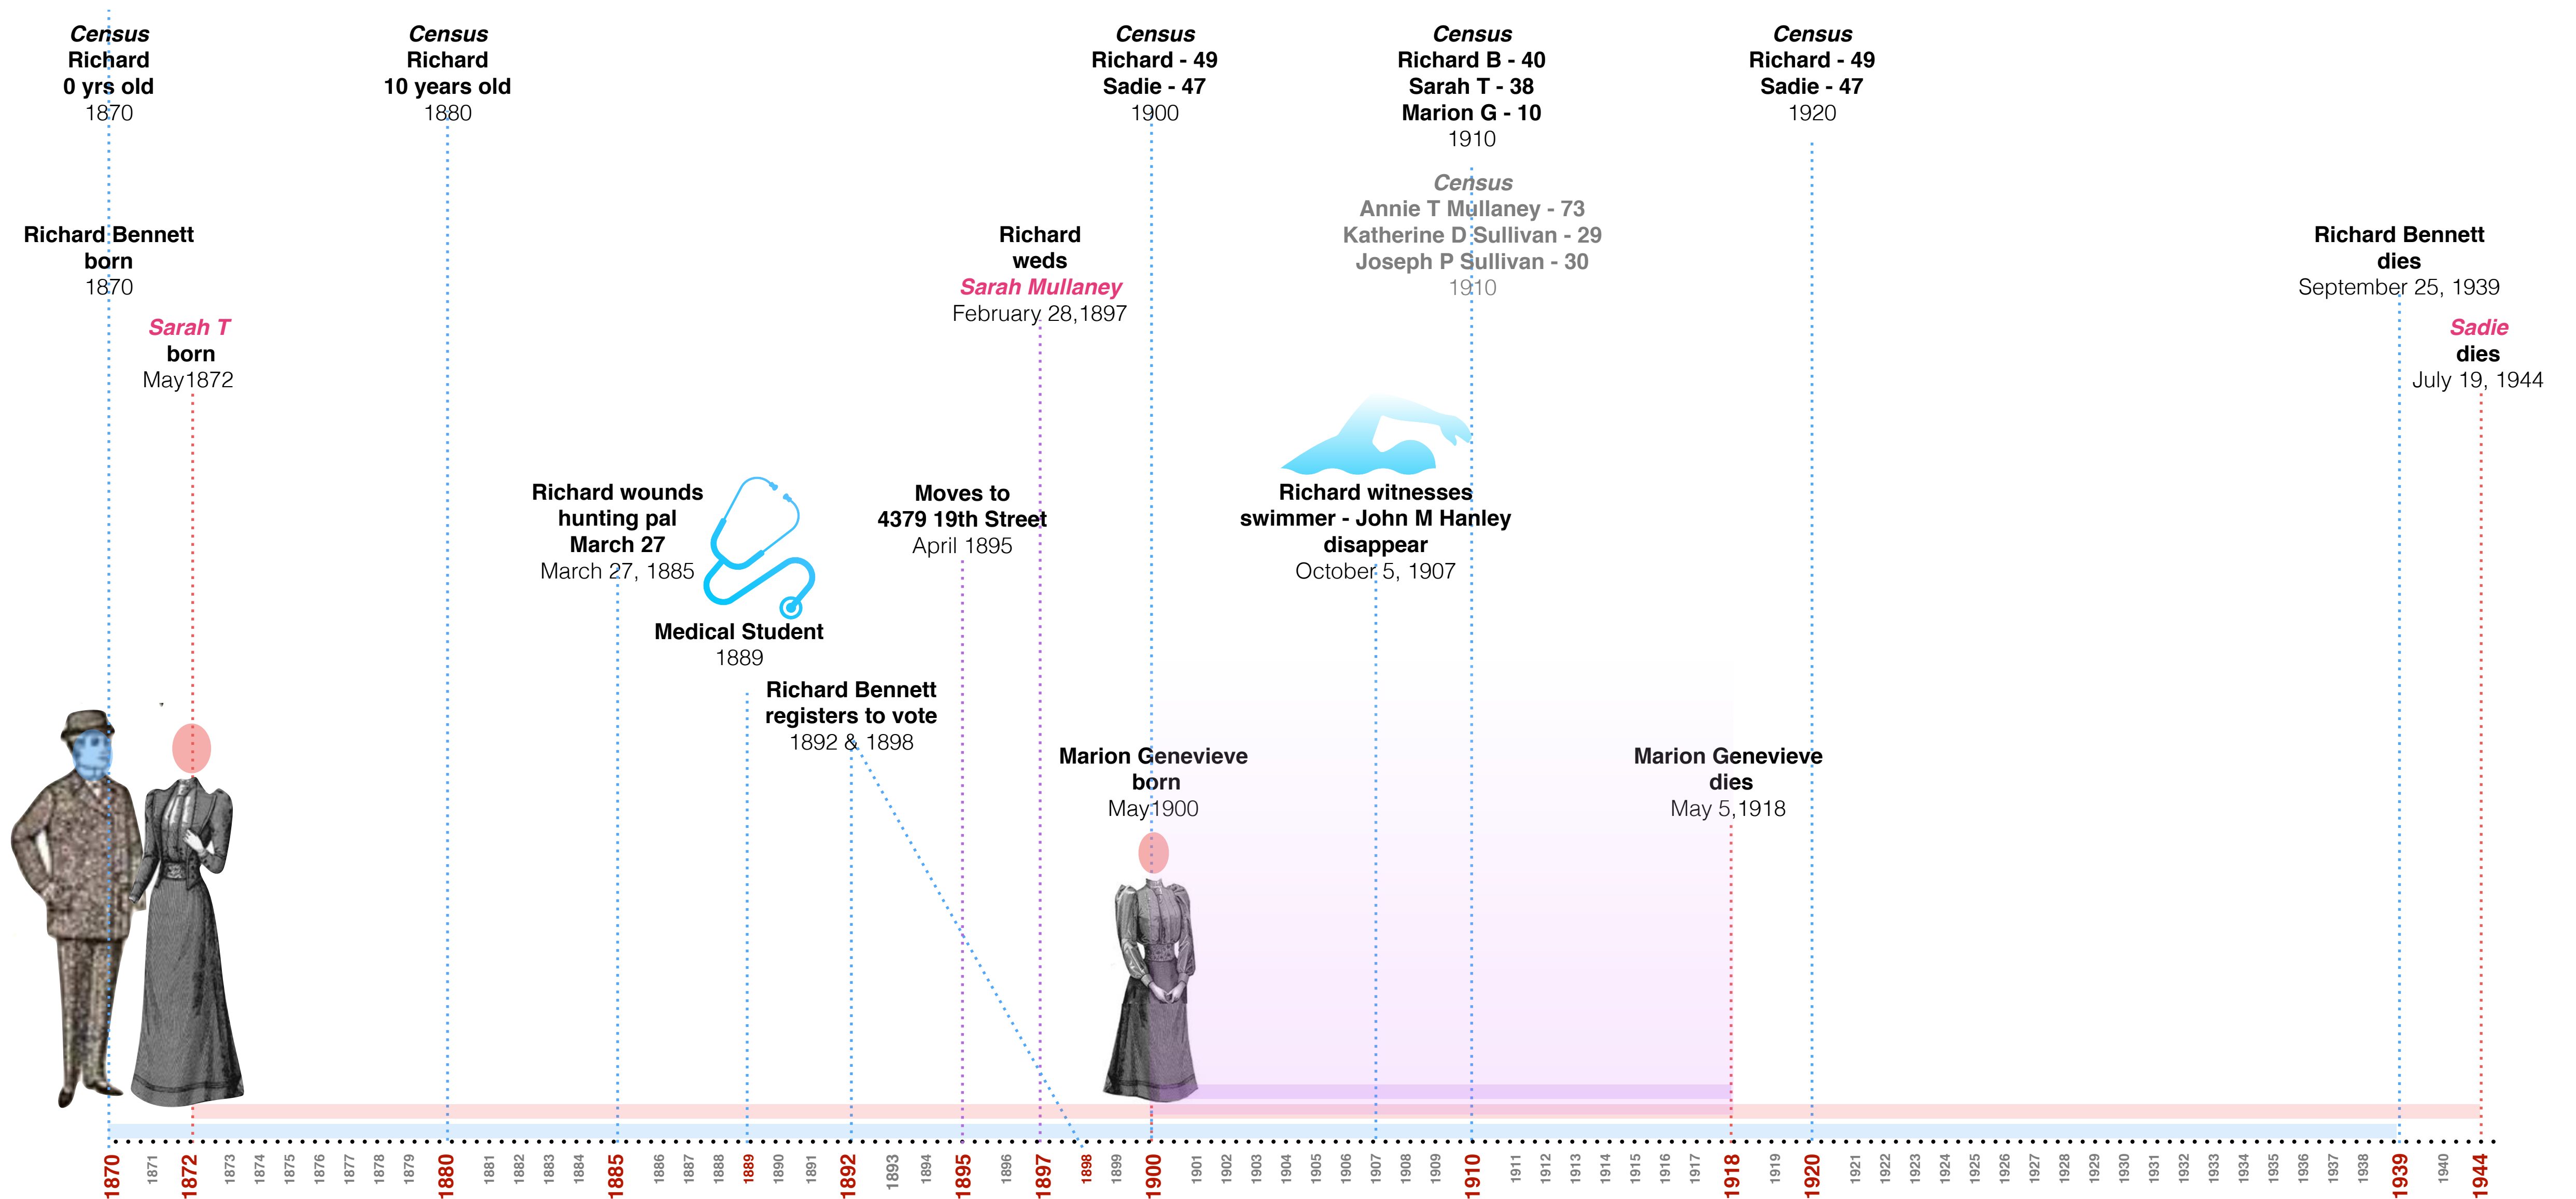

Eva M-52
dies
June 13, 1919

1867 1868 1869 1870 1871 1872 1873 1874 1875 1876 1877 1878 1879 1880 1881 1882 1883 1884 1885 1886 1887 1888 1889 1890 1891 1892 1893 1894 1895 1896 1897 1898 1899 1900 1901 1902 1903 1904 1905 1906 1907 1908 1909 1910 1911 1912 1913 1914 1915 1916 1917 1918 1919

Richard Bennett McKee - 1870-1939

Sadie 1872-1944 • Marion G 1900-1918

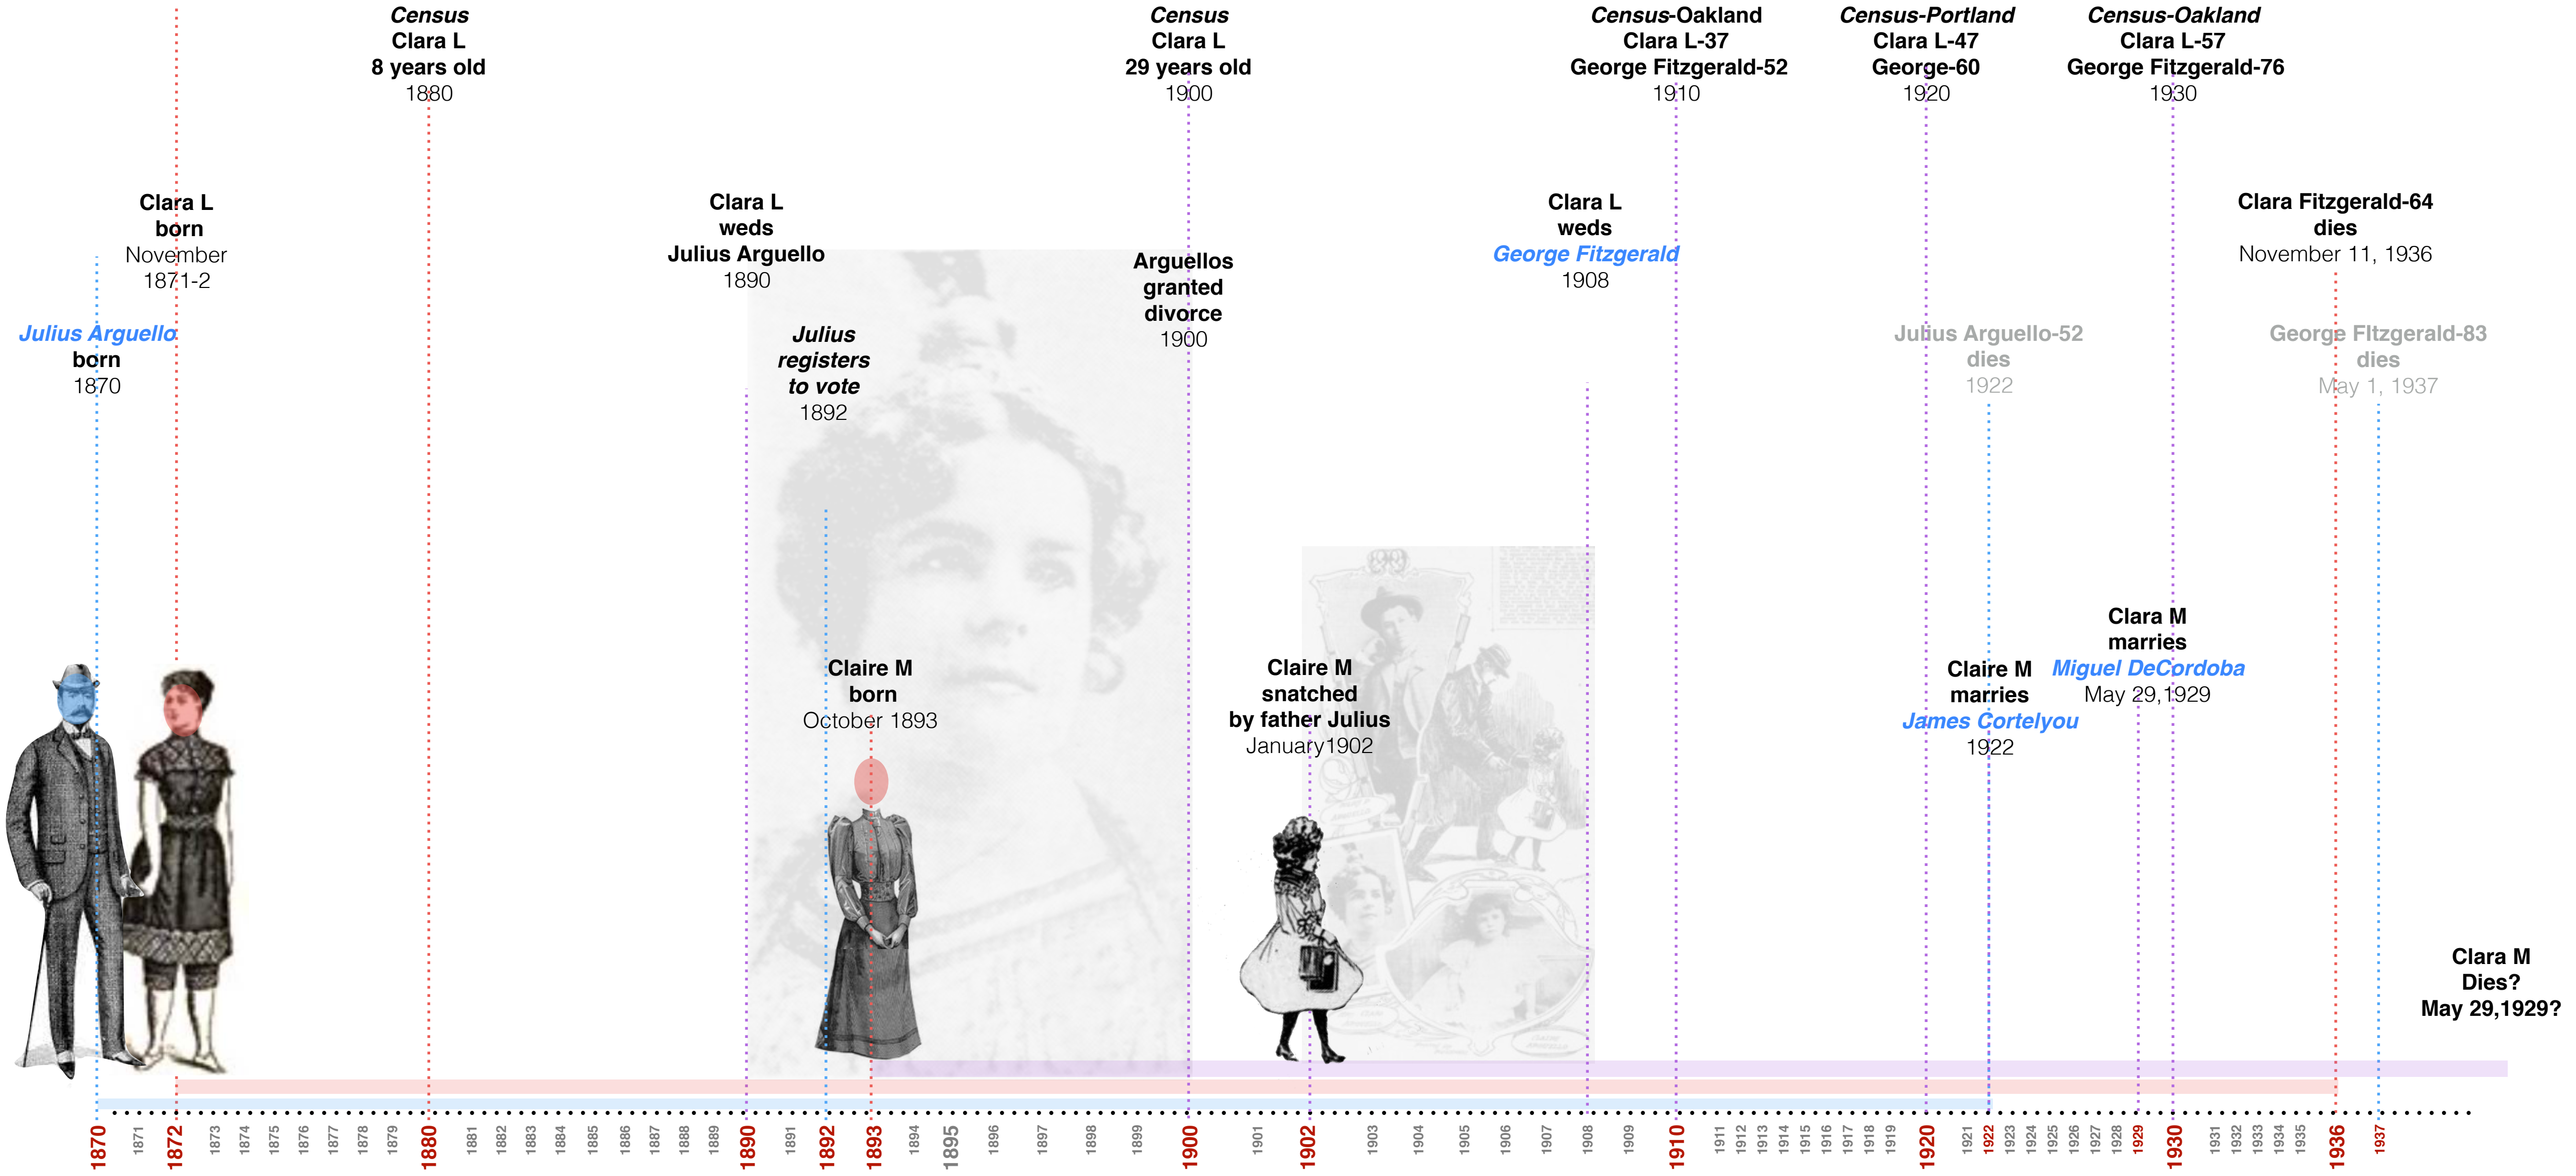

RICHARD BENNETT

Clara L McKee Arguello Fitzgerald • 1871-1936

Clara Maude (Claire) Arguello 1893-1906

CLARA L

William A McKee • 1880-1955

Hannah (Hattie) 1882-1955 • Son 1918

WILLIAM ANDREW

William Andrew
born

Dec 16, 1880-82-83

Census
William
0 years old
1880

Hannah (Hattie)
Born
December 12, 1882

Census
William
20 years old
1900

Census
William
28 years old
1910

William A weds Hattie
?1910, 1914

Census
William - 38
Hattie - 37
2201 California (Hattie's Family?)
1920

House sold to John Grott
1920

Census
William - 48
Hattie - 48
1930

Census
William - 58
Hattie - 58
1940

Registers for the Draft
Sept 12, 1917

Passport
Jan 27, 1922

Destinations
added to Passport
February 4

Return from Shanghai
March 4, 1925

Travel to Hawaii
November 1924

Son of William & Harriet
b. & d. Dec 24, 1918

Hattie
dies
April 30, 1955

William
dies
Sept 11, 1955

Eva M McKee, Hattie • Early 1890s

Party Girls

The Amico Club Party at Sacramento.
The Amico Club closed its season of dancing last Friday evening by giving a successful and enjoyable party at Turner Hall, Sacramento. This club has been conducted on a similar plan to that of the Plaislr and Reseda, with the exception that the membership includes young ladies as well as gentlemen, while in the other clubs there are only gentlemen on the membership-roll, who are privileged to escort to their dances such young ladies as they choose. In the Amico Club there are the same number of young gentlemen as ladies, and the club contains altogether about eighty members, nearly all of whom are under the age of 20 years. None but the families and friends of the members are invited to the club parties.

The hall was neatly decorated with streamers and flags, and the musician's stand was literally in the midst of a garden of potted plants and evergreens. The music was excellent and the dances numbered nearly twenty. A lemonade-stand in a corner of the hall, tastefully arranged and decorated, furnished cooling beverages for the dancers, and toward the close of the evening a choice supper was served.

The following are the club's members: Mr. Ben Welch, Mr. Frank Welch, Mr. F. Trainor, Miss Louise Foster, Mr. Charles M. Day, Mr. Miss Irene Leonard, Mr. Horatio Harper, Miss Lottie Hoffman, Mr. John Fogarty, Miss Nellie Swartz, Mr. Will Bellinger, Mr. Harry Williams, Mr. Ralph Holt, Mr. Fred Kessler, Miss Maud Jones, Miss Louise, Miss Nellie Holt, Miss Alice Sherman, Mr. Henry Kitching, Mr. Fred Smith, Mr. Charles Hall, Mr. H. B. Linnell, Mr. George Barnett, Miss Maud Barrett, Mr. Will Matlock, Miss Louise Nichols, Mr. Bert Martin, Mr. Harry Katoori, Miss Edna Carroll, Mr. Will Hendricks, Mr. Sam Henderson, Mr. Adam Leach, Miss Lizzie Sullivan, Miss Blanche Lwizicki, Mr. Ed Atkinson, Miss Helen Brock, Mr. Sam Simpson, Mr. G. N. Lane, Mr. Frank Gray, Mr. Bruce Gray, Miss M. Berren, Miss Mabel Lewis, Miss Edna Lewis, Miss Flora Herzog, Miss Maggie Fremont, Mr. T. P. Mason, Mr. W. H. Finn, Mr. Robert Robinson, Miss Clara Robinson, Miss Kate Meister, Miss Laura Meister, Mr. Clark Williams, Miss Julia Frost, Miss Hetta Kennedy, Mr. Homer McKee, Miss M. McKee, Miss Gena Collins, Mr. Al Trainor, Miss Maud Lee, Miss Ida Ing, Miss Ethel Gray, Mr. J. H. Day, Mr. John Lark, Mr. Robert Alexander, Miss Laura Terry, Miss Mabel Johnson, Mr. Stephen Hopkins, Mr. Harry Collins, Mr. Charles Jones, Miss Mollie Sherman, Miss Hattie Holt, Mr. E. M. McMillan, Mr. W. N. Nichols, Miss Eva Hughes, Miss Gertrude Miller, Miss Grace Dixon, Mr. Bert Taylor, Mr. O. G. Field, Mr. L. H. McMillan, Miss Lottie Robinson, Miss Jeanette Allen, Miss Lucy Murray, Miss Lizzie Evans, Miss Lottie Alden, Mr. J. G. Guey, Mr. Cyrus Miller, Mr. W. M. Howe.

San Francisco Call • April 7, 1890

The Amico Club Party at Sacramento

The Amico Club closed its season of dancing last Friday evening by giving a successful and enjoyable party at Turner Hall, Sacramento. This club has been conducted on a similar plan to that of the Plaislr and Reseda, with the exception that the membership includes young ladies as well as gentlemen, while in the other clubs there are only gentleman on the membership-roll, who are privileged to escort to their dances such young ladies as they choose. In the Amico Club there are the same number of young gentleman as ladies, and the club contains all together about 80 members, nearly all of them are under the age of 20 years. None but the families and friends of the members are invited to the club parties.

The hall was neatly decorated with streamers and flags, and the musicians' stand was literally in the midst of a garden of potted plants and evergreens. The music was excellent and the dances numbered nearly twenty. A lemonade-stand in the corner of the hall, tastefully arranged and decorated, furnished cooling beverages for the dancers, and toward the close of the evening a choice supper was served. Miss Eva McKee is a club member among others.

The election of officers by the Excelsior Literary and Musical Club last Monday night was interesting to its members and the dancing afforded pleasure to others. The election resulted in the following selection for the ensuing term: President, H. A. Moore; vice-president, Edward Rowe; secretary, Miss Eva McKee; treasurer, Miss Mary Lantz; floor manager, George Dolan; sergeant-at-arms, P. J. Mitchell; assistants, A. P. Killian and W. E. Walker. Those with the following are an executive board: Mrs. Clara G. Walker, Miss Emma Kelly, Mrs. M. E. Chapman, Frank Peck and C. T. Lynch. This evening the club will have its usual dance.

SF Chronicle • March 28, 1892

The election of officers by the Excelsior Literary and Musical Club last Monday night was interesting to its members and the dancing afforded pleasure to others the election resulted in the following selection for the ensuing term: ...Miss Eva McKee treasurer.... with others on the executive board. This evening the club will have its usual dance.

THE SOCIAL WORLD.
Dance of the Friday Night Club.
Teas Announced for This Afternoon.
The Parties Which Are Soon to Be Given—Announcement of Engagements.

The fourth of the dances of the Friday Night Club was given last evening at Odd Fellows' Hall. These dances have been so popular and successful that regret was expressed that the next will be the last of the series. Dancing began at 9 o'clock and stopped at midnight when supper was announced. After supper dancing was resumed and continued until 2 o'clock. The hall looked pretty with bunting of different colors, ferns, palms and gay flowers. Five figures of a cotillon were danced to the inspiring music of Huber's Hungarian Orchestra. The cotillon was led by the manager, who had as his partner Miss Taylor, one of this season's debutantes. Among those who participated in the cotillon were: Miss Taylor, Miss Hobart, Miss Sperry, Miss Holbrook, Miss Collier, Miss McNeil, Miss Howard, Miss Moore, Miss Jones, Miss McKenna, Miss Dinsmore, Miss McDonald, Miss McBean, Miss J. Crocker, Miss McKee, Miss Deming, Miss Alleen Dead, Miss Ferris, Miss Cheesman, Mrs. Dyer, Mrs. Howe, Miss Murphy, Miss Hanchaw, Miss Blair, Miss Younger, Miss G. L. Jones, Miss

SF Chronicle • January 20, 1894

THE SOCIAL WORLD. Dance of the Friday Night Club.

The fourth of the dances of the Friday Night Club was given last evening at Odd Fellows' Hall. These dances have been so popular and successful that regret was expressed that the next will be the last of the series. Dancing began at 9 o'clock and stopped at midnight when supper was announced. After supper dancing was resumed and continued until 2 o'clock. The whole look pretty with bunting of different colors, ferns, palms and gay flowers. Five figures of a cotillon were danced to the inspiring music of Huber's Hungarian Orchestra. The cotillon was led by the manager, who had as his partner Miss Taylor, one of the season's debutantes. Miss McKee was among those who participated in the cotillon.

Miss Mary McKee

Miss Eva McKee

Hattie McKee

"OUR OWN" SOCIAL.
The second invitation party of the "Our Own" Social Club was given on Thursday last at Exora Hall. The club is composed of and managed entirely by ladies. The ladies of this club show that they understand the secret of making a social assembly most enjoyable. The following are the officers: President, Miss Mary McKee; Vice-President, Miss Lizzie Shoemaker; Secretary, Miss May Conway; Treasurer, Miss Nellie Fitzgerald; Committee of Arrangements—Misses Lena S. Burns, Lena A. Shurtell, Maggie Donohue; Reception Committee—Misses Annie Slatton, Louise Carey, Florence Garwood, Maggie Fitzgerald; Floor Manager, Miss Mary McKee; Floor Committee—Misses May Conway, Nellie Fitzgerald, Katie Markey, Mary E. Gunn, Lizzie Shoemaker.

SF Chronicle • November 7, 1881

"OUR OWN" SOCIAL

The second invitation party of the "Our Own" Social Club on Thursday last...The club is composed of and managed entirely by ladies. The ladies of this club show that they understand the secret of making social assembly most enjoyable. The following are the officers; President Miss Mary McKee.... Floor Manager, Miss Mary McKee

THE ENTIRE SWIM

The McKee residence, 2336 Twenty-fourth street, was the scene of a merry gathering on Friday evening, December 4th. A good programme was enjoyed. After dancing a delicious collation was served. Those present were: Mrs. McKee, Miss Tessie Lahaney, Miss Eva McKee, Miss Nellie Foley, Miss Annie Corbett, Miss Mae Dunn, Miss Josie Ambrose, Miss Margaret Lahaney, Miss Maggie Dunn, Chester Smith, Richard McKee, Dr. Cooper, C. McDonald, Dr. Sumner, Percy Wood, William McKee, Dr. Husted and Elmore Stanley.

SF Chronicle • December 4, 1896

THOSE IN THE SWIM

The McKee residence, 2336 24th Street, was the scene of a merry gathering on Friday evening, December 4th. A good programme was enjoyed. After dancing a delicious collation was served. Those present were: Mrs. McKee Miss Tessie Lahaney, Miss Eva McKee, Miss Nelly Foley, Miss Annie Corbett, Miss Mae Dumm, Miss Joale Ambrose, Miss Margaret Lahaney, Miss Maggie Dunn, Chester Smith, Richard McKee, Dr. Cooper, C. MacDonald, Dr. Sumner, Percy Wood, William McKee, Dr. Hosted and Elmore Stanley.

July 1, 1890 • January 6 • Divorce Court

MARITAL MISFITS.

Mary T. McKee has filed a complaint for divorce against James McKee

San Francisco Chronicle - 1 July 1890

MARITAL MISFITS

Mary T. McKee has filed a complaint for divorce against James McKee.

THE UNHAPPY M'KEES.

Their Divorce Suit Now on Trial—Other Cases.

The divorce suit of Mary T. McKee against James McKee was jointly tried in Judge Finn's court yesterday. The parties to the action, both of whom are quite well advanced in life, were married in Canada in 1861 and have a family of grown-up children. The wife charges her husband with extreme cruelty, while he, in a cross complaint, alleges cruelty and also desertion on her part. Among other things he alleges that the plaintiff has for years past caused their children to refrain from noticing or speaking to him, and that she has allowed him nothing to eat but the scraps which might be left on the table after the rest of the family had finished their meals.

San Francisco Chronicle - 6 January 1891

THE UNHAPPY M'KEES

Their Divorce Suit Now on Trial

The divorce suit of Mary T McKee against James H McKee was jointly tried in Judge Finn's court yesterday. The parties to the action, both of whom are quite well advanced in life were married in Canada in 1861 and have a family of grown-up children. The wife charges her husband with extreme cruelty, while he, in a cross complaint, alleged cruelty and also desertion on her part.

Among other things he alleges that the plaintive has for years past caused their children to refrain from noticing or speaking to him and that she has allowed him nothing to eat but the scraps which might be left on the table after the rest of the family has finished their meals.

January 17, 1891 • James H McKee draws a knife on James T McKee Jr.

A DIVIDED FAMILY.

James McKee Makes Threats Against His Children.

It was a sad case which occupied Police Judge Worley's attention for a few minutes yesterday morning, that of a wife and children against husband and father. The case was that of James McKee, a carpenter about 60 years of age, charged with making threats to kill, and the complaining witnesses were his own children, grown to the estate of manhood. Several months ago Mrs. McKee secured a divorce from her husband on several grounds and since that time he has let no opportunity go by in which he might terrify and torment the family. The children upheld the mother and the irate ex-husband became unbearable in his conduct toward them.

The mother and children live at 807 Twenty-fourth street, and on Friday night McKee went to the door and demanded admission and on being refused he drew a knife and threatened to exterminate the entire family regardless of cost. An officer who happened to pass along took the belligerent McKee into custody. Judge Worley remanded him for sentence.

San Francisco Chronicle, Page 20, January 18, 1891

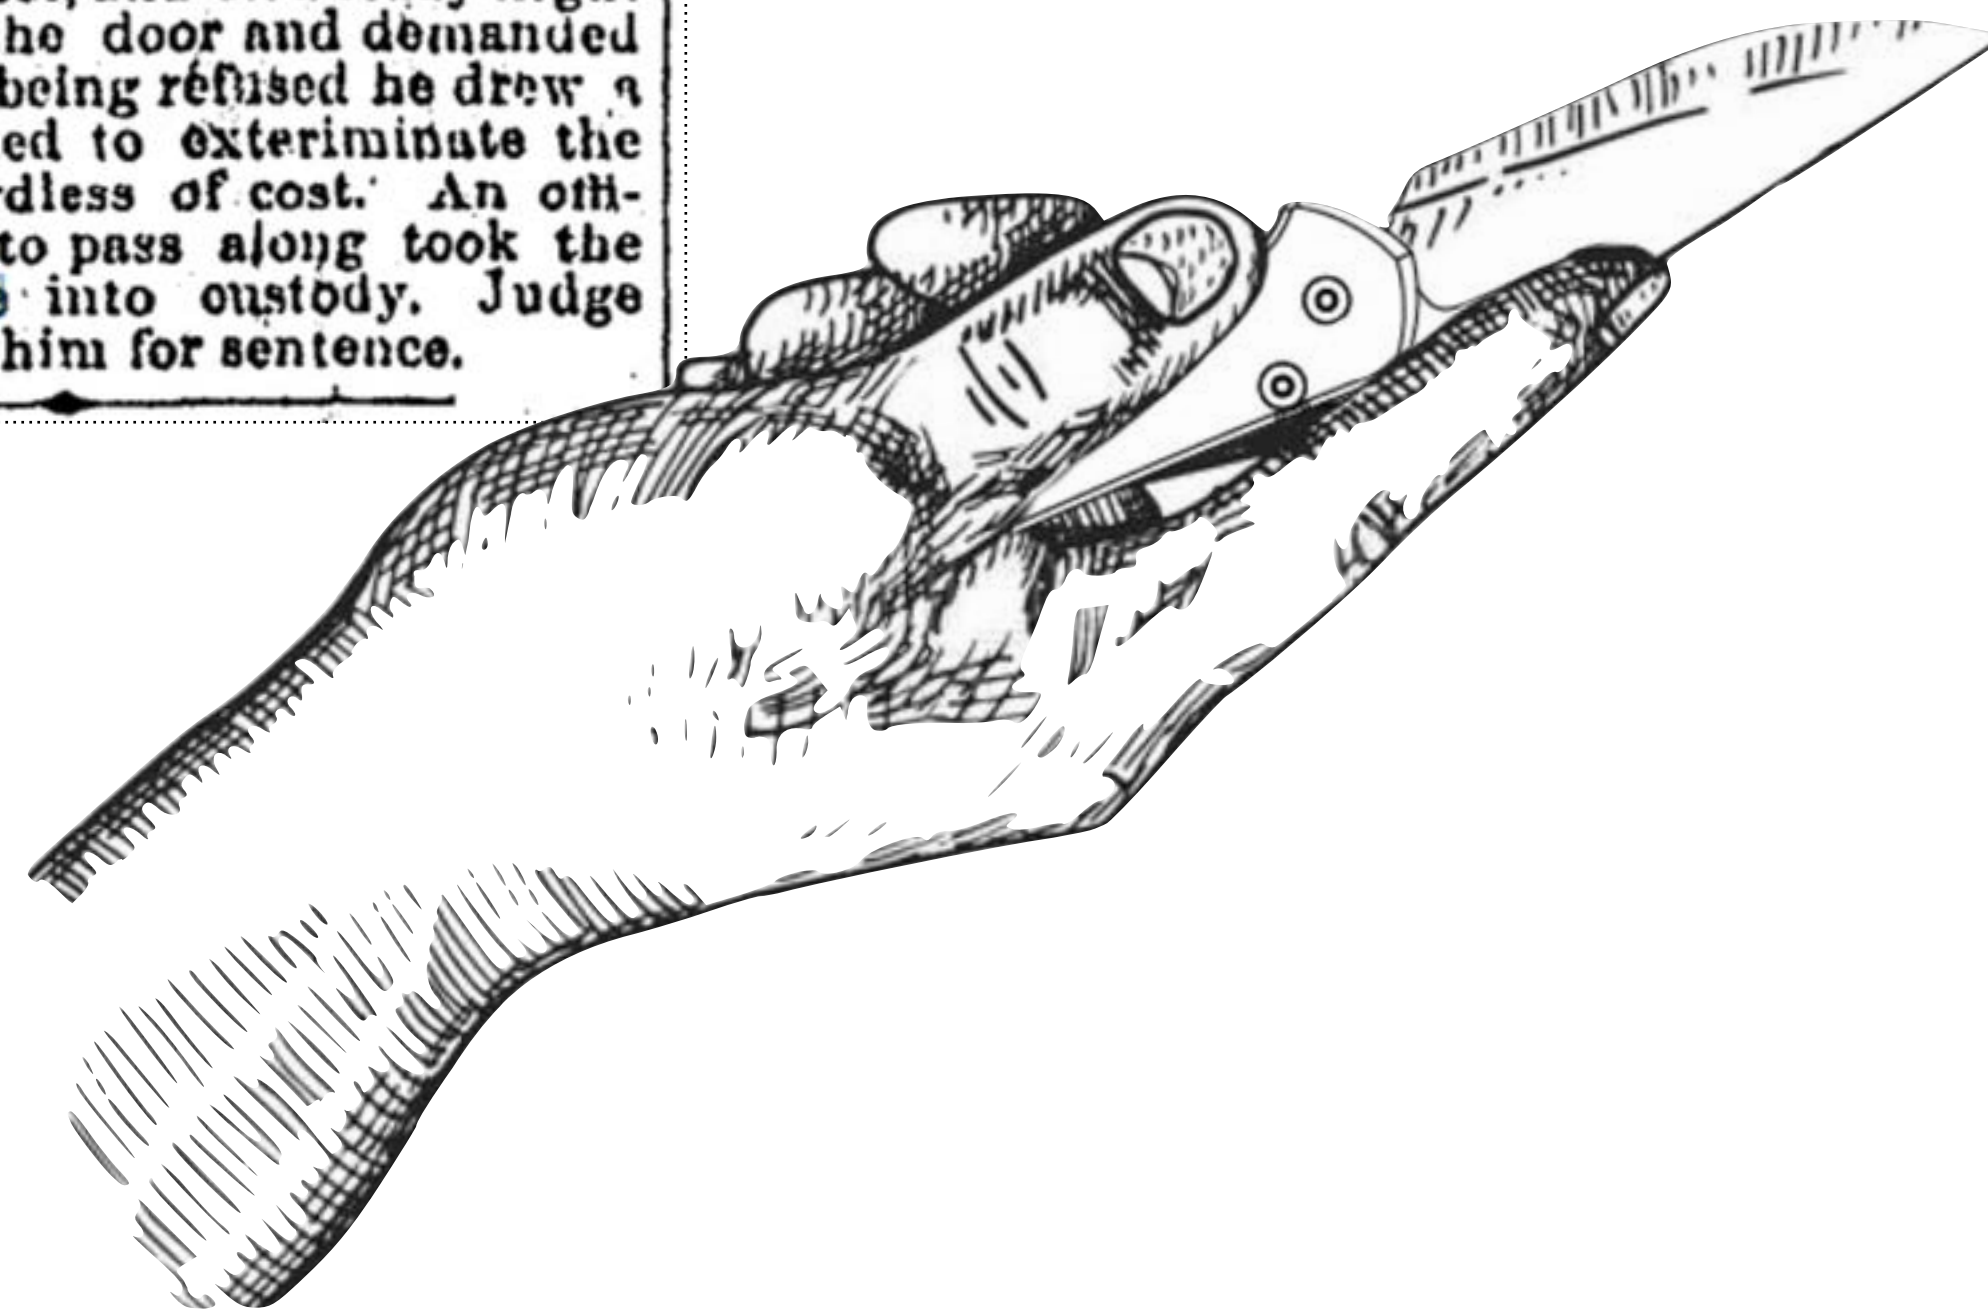

A DIVIDED FAMILY

James McKee Makes Threats Against His Children

It was a sad case which occupied police Judge Worley's attention for a few minutes yesterday morning, that of a wife and children against husband and father. The case was that of James McKee, a carpenter about 60 years of age, charged with making threats to kill, and the complaining witnesses were his own children, grown to the estate of manhood. Several months ago Mrs. McKee secured a divorce from her husband on several grounds and since that time he has let no opportunity go by in which he might terrify and torment the family. The children upheld the mother and the irate ex-husband became unbearable in his conduct toward them

The mother and children live at 807 Twenty-fourth Street, and on Friday night McKee went to the door and demanded admission and on being refused he drew a knife and threatened to exterminate the entire family regardless of cost.

An officer who happened to pass along took the belligerent McKee into custody, Judge Worley remanded him for sentence.

January 17, 18, 1891 • James H McKee draws knife to kill /murder his son — at 807 24th Street

FATHER AGAINST SON.

J. McKee Placed Under Arrest for Threats Against Life.

James McKee, the recently divorced husband of Mary McKee, was arrested last night by Officers Clifford and Dalton, at the instance of his son, for threats against life. Young McKee claims his father called at his mother's house on Twenty-fourth street and tried to force an entrance. When this was refused him he drew a knife and threatened to thrust it to the hilt into him. Young McKee then called a policeman and had his father taken to the Seventeenth-street Station in the patrol-wagon.

James McKee is a carpenter by trade and up to a very recent date lived happily enough. But family troubles resulted and his wife got a divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty. An estate worth $2500 was divided so as to give him one-fourth, and this seems to have caused more trouble and been the direct cause of last night's encounter.

San Francisco Call, Volume 69, Number 48, 17 January 1891

FATHER AGAINST SON

J McKee Placed Under Arrest for Threats Against Life.

James McKee, the recently divorced husband of Mary McKee, was arrested last night by Officers Clifford and Dalton, at the instance of his son, for threats against life. Young McKee claims his father called at his mother's house on Twenty-fourth street and tried to force an entrance. When this was refused him he drew a knife, and threatened to thrust it to the hilt into him. Young McKee then called a policeman and had his father taken to the Seventeenth-street Station in the patrol-wagon. James McKee is a carpenter by trade and up to a very recent date lived happily enough. But family troubles resulted and his wife got a divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty. An estate worth $2500 was divided so as to give him one-fourth, and this seems to have caused more trouble and been the direct cause of last night's encounter.

A FATHER'S THREAT.

James McKee Draws a Knife to Kill His Son.

Trouble has been brewing in the McKee household for some time, and last week it culminated in Mrs. Mary McKee securing a divorce from James McKee on the ground of extreme cruelty. The $2500 estate was divided so as to give the husband one-quarter. It is said this fact prompted McKee to go out to his wife's house, on Twenty-fourth street, last night and demanded admittance, but what his intentions were is not known. His son answered his knock, and upon refusing to admit him the father drew a large knife and threatened to kill him. He was turned over to an officer, and was booked at the Seventeenth-street station for threats against life.

San Francisco Call • January 17, 1891

A FATHER'S THREAT

James McKee Draws a Knife to Kill His Son

Trouble has been brewing in the McKee household for sometime, and last week it culminated in Mrs. Mary McKee securing a divorce from James McKee on the ground of extreme cruelty. The $2500 estate was divided up so as to give the husband one quarter. It is said that this fact prompted McKee to go out to his wife's house on Twenty-fourth Street, last night and demanded admittance, but what his intentions were is not known. His son answered his knock, and upon refusing to admit him the father drew a large knife and threatened to kill him. He was turned over to an officer, and was booked at the Seventeenth Street station for threats against life.

SON AGAINST FATHER.

James McKee Charged With Trying to Murder His Son.

The spectacle of children testifying against their father was seen in Judge Worley's courtroom yesterday morning when James McKee, a man about sixty years of age, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. His son, James McKee Jr., and his daughter, Eva, were the complaining witnesses. The defendant has raised a large family of children, now fully grown. He has been an industrious carpenter, and by his thrift managed to build for himself a home at 824 Twenty-fourth street. A short time ago he began to drink, and his wife sued for a divorce and recently obtained it. He has been sleeping under the family roof, but last evening when he returned home his son denied him admission and a scuffle on the front porch ensued, during which McKee pulled a penknife from his pocket. The son retreated to the street and called in an officer, who arrested the old man on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. After hearing the testimony, the Judge took the matter under advisement.

Daily Alta California, Volume 84, Number 18, 18 January 1891

SON AGAINST FATHER.

James McKee Charged with Trying to Murder His Son.

The spectacle of children testifying against their father was seen in Judge Worley's courtroom yesterday morning when James McKee, a man about sixty years of age, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. His son, James McKee Jr., and his daughter, Eva, were the complaining witnesses. The defendant has raised a large family of children, now fully grown. He has been an industrious carpenter, and by his thrift managed to build for himself a home at 824 Twenty-fourth street. A short time ago he began to drink, and his wife sued for a divorce and recently obtained it. He has been sleeping under the family roof, but last evening when he returned home his son denied him admission and a scuffle on the front porch ensued, during which McKee pulled a penknife from his pocket. The son retreated to the street and called in an officer, who arrested the old man on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. After hearing the testimony, the Judge took the matter under advisement.

Threatened to Kill His Son.

James McKee, a carpenter, was examined in Police Court 3 yesterday on a charge of uttering threats against life. About a year ago he was divorced, and since then he has frequently demanded admission to the residence of his former wife at 807 Twenty-fourth street. He was under the influence of liquor on Friday night when his son James answered his ring at the door-bell, and during a scuffle on the steps the father drew a knife and threatened to kill his offspring. Mrs. McKee and her daughter Eva were also in court and gave testimony against the former head of the family. Judge Joachimsen took the case under advisement.

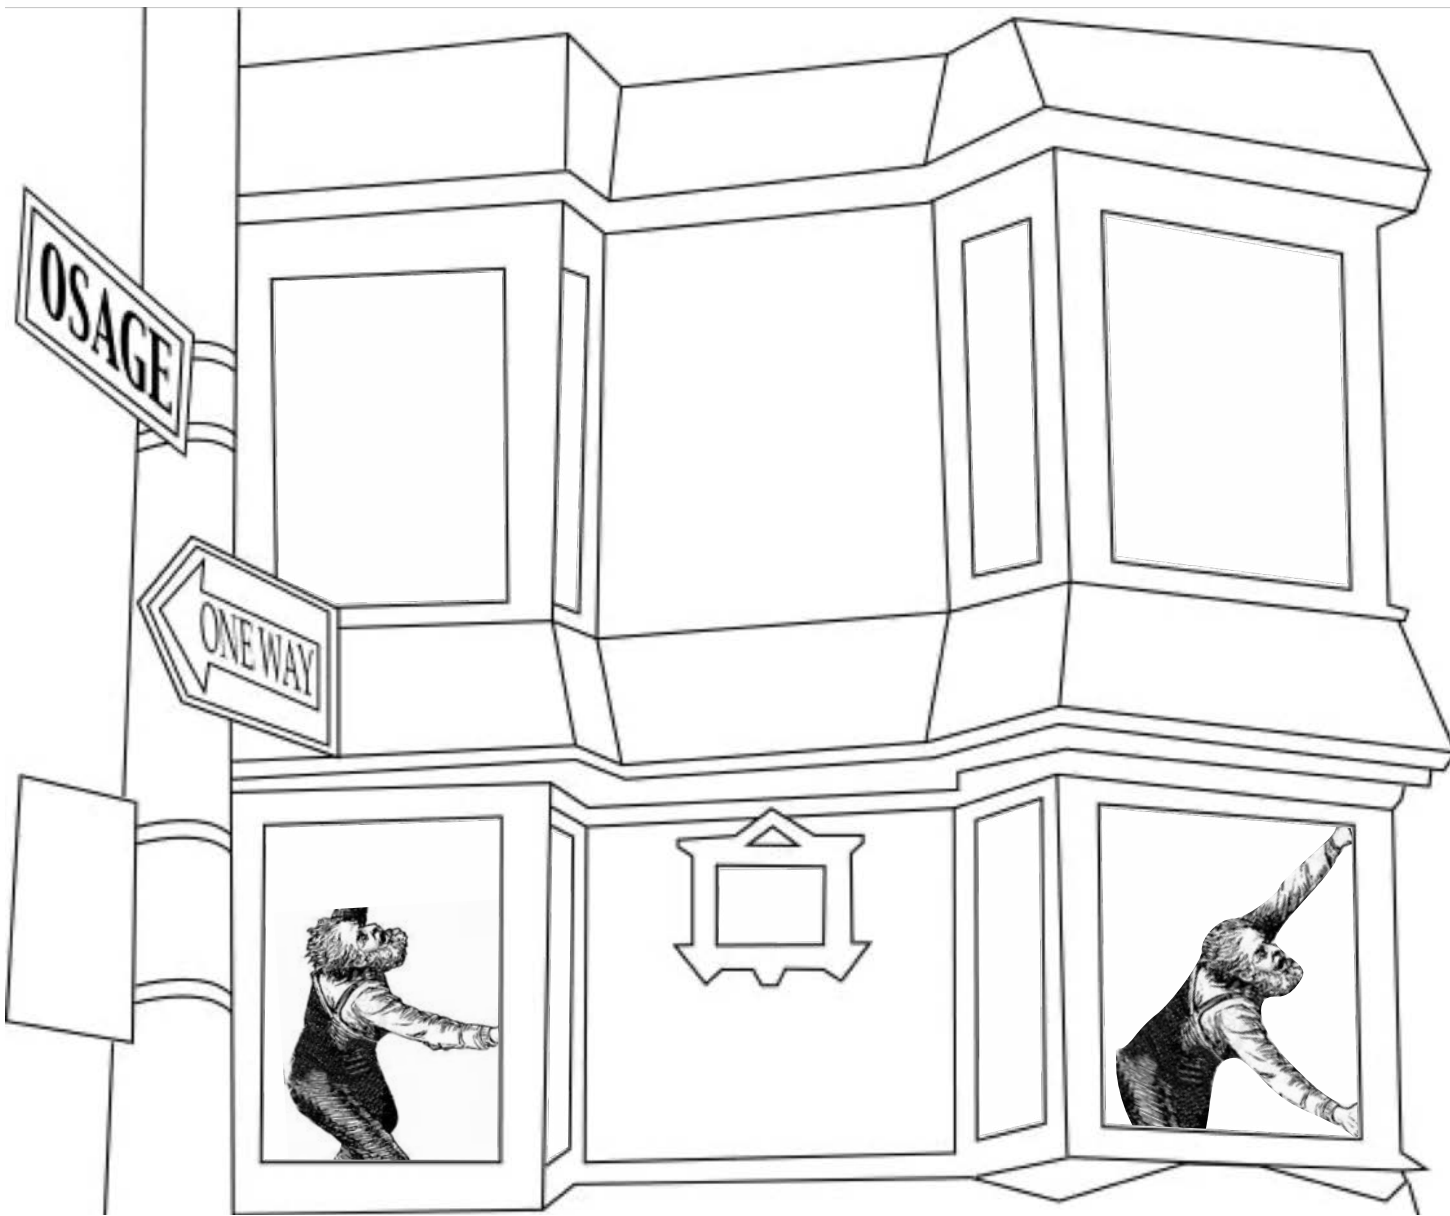

San Francisco Call, Volume 69, Number 49, 18 January 1891

Threatened to Kill Son

James McKee, a carpenter, was examined in Police Court 3 yesterday on a charge of uttering threats against life. About a year ago he was divorced, and since then he has frequently demanded admission to the residence of his former wife at 807 Twenty Fourth street while he was under the influence of liquor on Friday night when his son James answered his ring at the doorbell and during a scuffle on the steps the father drew a knife and threatened to kill his offspring. Mrs. McKee and her daughter Eva were also in court and gave testimony against the former Head of the family. Judge Joachimsen took the case under advisement.

3 days later, January 22, 1891 • James H McKee falls from a balcony at 2 AM...

Fell From a Balcony.

A carpenter named James McKee, residing at 807 Twenty-fourth street, fell about 2 o'clock yesterday morning from the balcony of his residence to the ground, a distance of about twenty feet, fracturing his shoulder-blade and breaking several ribs. He was taken in a buggy to the Seventeenth-street police station, whence he was removed to the City and County Hospital. McKee was, less than a week ago, charged by his son with threats against life and being drunk.

San Francisco Chronicle - 23 January, 1891

Fell From a Balcony

A carpenter name James McKee, residing at 807 Twenty-fourth Street, fell about 2 o'clock yesterday morning from the balcony of his residence to the ground, a distance of about twenty feet fracturing his shoulder-blade and breaking several ribs. He was taken in a buggy to the Seventeenth Street police station, whence he was removed to the city and county hospital. McKee was less than a week ago charge by his son with threats against life and being drunk.

OFFICIOUS AND LAZY.

A County Hospital Attendant Strongly Condemned.

That everything is not conducted as it should be at night at the City and County Hospital is becoming painfully obvious to residents in that neighborhood and to persons who are compelled to go there for information or on other business.

On Monday night a young woman in a delicate condition was taken there for treatment. Entrance was gained only after considerable trouble. Fully fifteen minutes passed before the obtuse gate-keeper, either through pure stupidity or from the wish to make others feel the weight of his authority, would admit the inquirer after the resident physician.

On January 2d the Seventeenth-street police patrol went to the hospital with a wounded man at 1 o'clock in the morning. After a half hour's clanging of the hospital bell and foot-bell on the wagon, the gate-keeper appeared, with the excuse that he had been "at supper."

On the 21st the same patrol carried to the hospital James McKee, a carpenter, who had fallen from a balcony and sustained fractured ribs and internal injuries. The hour was 2 o'clock in the morning, and almost the same experience as on the previous occasion was had before the sleepy attendant answered the summons.

He had the same excuse of being at supper. When the officer in charge of the wounded man asked to what extent he was liable in case his delay should cause the death of an otherwise seriously wounded person a suggestive shrug of his shoulders was the only reply. He is accused with being lazy and officious.

San Francisco Call, Volume 69, Number 56, 25 January 1891

OFFICIOUS AND LAZY.

A County Hospital Attendant Strongly Condemned.

That everything is not conducted as it should be at night at the City and County Hospital is becoming painfully obvious to residents in that neighborhood and to persons who are compelled to go there for information or on other business.

On Monday night a young woman in a delicate condition was taken there for treatment. Entrance was gained only after considerable trouble. Fully fifteen minutes passed before the obtuse gate-keeper, either through pure stupidity or from the wish to make others feel the weight of his authority, would admit the inquirer after the resident physician.

On January 2d the Seventeenth-street police patrol went to the hospital with a wounded man at 1 o'clock in the morning. After a half hour's clanging of the hospital bell and foot-bell on the wagon, the gatekeeper appeared, with the excuse that he had been "at supper."

On the 21st the same patrol carried to the hospital James McKee, a carpenter, who had fallen from a balcony and sustained fractured ribs and internal injuries. The hour was 2 o'clock in the morning, and almost the same experience as on the previous occasion was had before the sleepy attendant answered the summons.

He had the same excuse of being at supper. When the officer in charge of the wounded man asked to what extent he was liable in ease his delay should cause the death of an otherwise seriously wounded person a suggestive shrug of his shoulders was the only reply. He is accused with being lazy and officious.

November 30, 1890

Clara McKee & Julius Arguello

MARRIAGE

The Arguello-McKee Wedding.
At 9 o'clock on Thursday morning, at St. James Church, Miss Clara McKee and Mr. Julius Arguello were married, Rev. Father McCann, assisted by Rev. Father Lynch, officiating. Immediately at the conclusion of the marriage ceremony a nuptial mass was celebrated. During the service selections from Verdi and other well-known composers were rendered by the choir, consisting of Mrs. McKee-Wilz, Mr. James McKee, Mr. T. H. Wilz, Mr. Weismier, violinist, and Miss Kelly, organist. A reception was held at the residence of Mrs. James McKee Sr., on Twenty-fourth street, and in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Arguello left for a bridal trip to Santa Rosa. The groom is a great-grandson of the first Governor of California when under the jurisdiction of the Spanish crown.

San Francisco Call • November 3, 1890

The Arguello—McKee Wedding

At 9 o'clock on Thursday morning, at Saint James Church, Miss Clara McKee and Mr. Julius Arguello were married, Rev. Father McCann, assisted by Rev. Father Lynch, officiating. Immediately at the conclusion of the marriage ceremony and nuptial mass was celebrated. During the service selections were from Verdi and other well-known composers were rendered by the choir, consisting of Mrs. McKee-Wilz, Mr. Weismier, violinist, and Miss Kelly, organist. A receptionist was held at the residence of Mrs. James McKee Sr., on Twenty-fourth Street, and in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Arguello left for a bridal trip to Santa Rosa. The groom is a great grandson of the first governor of California when under the jurisdiction of the Spanish crown.

McKee/Arguello Marriage • November 30, 1890 — October 16, 1899

Clara & Julius & Claire

1890 Santa Clara Census • Julius, Clara L, Clara M, Moon

106112	Arguello, J.R.	W	M	23	1	Capitalist	Cal	Cal	Cal
	Clara	W	F	21	1	Keeping House	Cal	England	N.Y.
	M Clara	W	F	1	1		Cal	Cal	Cal
	Moon	W	M	19	1	Cook	China	China	China
		W	M	19	1	Physician	Milwaukee	N. Carolina	Tenn

Lived on Washington Street in Santa Clara near Lafayette

Moon
United States Federal Census, 1880
Name:	Moon
Census Year:	1880
Gender:	Male
Age:	19
Race:	Chinese
Relationship:	Other
Residence:	Santa Clara, Santa Clara, California, United States
Birthplace:	China
Birth Year:	1861
Household Members:
	Name	Age
	Q, J R Arguello	23
	Q, L Clara Arguello	21
	Q, M Clara Arguello	1

1900 SF Census • Clara L & Clara M @ The McKees

TWELFTH CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES. B

State California Supervisor's District No. 1 Sheet No. 6

County San Francisco Enumeration District No. 112

Township or other division of county _____ Name of Institution, _____

Name of incorporated city, town, or village, within the above-named division, San Francisco Cec. Dist. 35

Enumerated by me on the 4th day of June, 1900, Roginald B. Evans, Enumerator.

LOCATIONS.	NAME	RELATION.	PERSONAL DESCRIPTION.		NATIVITY.			CITIZENSHIP.		OCCUPATION, TRADE, OR PROFESSION	EDUCATION.				OWNERSHIP OF REAL ESTATE.
			SEX	AGE	Place of birth of this person.	Place of birth of father of this person.	Place of birth of mother of this person.	Place of birth of this person.	Place of birth of father of this person.		Place of birth of mother of this person.	Years of school attended.	Years of college.	Years of business.	Years of professional.	Value of real estate owned.
6528173116	McKee, Frank J.	Head	M	38	Canada (Eng)	Ireland	Canada (Eng)	1865	38	Teacher	11	0	0	0	0	0
	James	Son	M	14	Canada (Eng)	Canada (Eng)	Canada (Eng)	1885	14	Teacher	8	0	0	0	0	0
	Clara L	Daughter	F	10	California	Canada (Eng)	Canada (Eng)	1890	10	School teacher	3	0	0	0	0	0
	Clara M	Daughter	F	7	California	Canada (Eng)	Canada (Eng)	1893	7	School teacher	0	0	0	0	0	0
	William	Son	M	5	California	Canada (Eng)	Canada (Eng)	1895	5	Apprentice	0	0	0	0	0	0
	Marie	Daughter	F	3	California	Canada (Eng)	Canada (Eng)	1897	3		0	0	0	0	0	0

THE ARGUELLOS ARE DIVORCED.

Mrs. Clara L. Arguello was granted a divorce from Julius J. Arguello by Judge Seawell yesterday on the ground of failure to provide. The witnesses were she and her sister, Miss Eva McKee of 3328 Twenty-fourth street. They stated that Arguello had not provided for his wife for two years. The marriage took place on November 27, 1890. At that time Arguello, who belongs to a rich family of Santa Clara, had about $50,000. Judge Seawell was informed that the young man squandered this money. Mrs. Arguello was awarded the custody of her little daughter, Claire. When she found that she had to support herself she got a position as teacher in the School Department. She was appointed in December, 1898, but in January, 1899, the new Board of Education revoked the appointment of Mrs. Arguello and other teachers. Her suit against the Board to recover her position and salary is pending. Her sister, Miss McKee, is a teacher. The divorce suit was filed on May 17, 1898.

San Francisco Chronicle • 15 October 1899

THE ARGUELLOS ARE DIVORCED

Mrs. Clara L. Arguello was granted a divorce from Julius J. Arguello by Judge Seawell yesterday on the grounds of failure to provide. The witnesses were she and her sister, Miss Eva McKee of 3328 Twenty-Fourth Street. They stated that Arguello had not provided for his wife for two years. The marriage took place on November 27, 1890. At that time Arguello, who belongs to a rich family of Santa Clara, had about $50,000. Judge Seawell was informed the young man squandered this money. Mrs. Arguello was awarded the custody of her little daughter, Claire. When she found that she had to support herself she got a position as a teacher in the school department. She was appointed in December, 1898 but in January, 1899, the new Board of Education revoked the appointment of Mrs. Arguello and other teachers. Her suit against the Board to recover her position and salary is pending. Her sister Miss McKee, is a teacher. The divorce suit was filed on May 17, 1898

School Teachers

THE ARGUELLOS ARE DIVORCED.

When she found that she had to support herself she got a position as teacher in the School Department. She was appointed in December, 1898, but in January, 1899, the new Board of Education revoked the appointment of Mrs. Arguello and other teachers. Her suit against the Board to recover her position and salary is pending. Her sister, Miss McKee, is a teacher. The divorce suit was filed on May 17, 1898.

ECONOMY CALLS FOR A CHANGE.

CAST OUT OF THE SCHOOLS.

List of the Victims of the Referring Board.

SIXTY-TWO TEACHERS KNOW THEIR FATE.

THE NUMBER FROM SCHOOLS, LOST OR RECALLED.

Abolition of the Commercial Department is suggested by the Referring Board.

The Board of Education has decided to reduce the number of teachers by 62, and to abolish the Commercial Department.

The following are the names of the teachers who have been notified of their fate:

Miss A. B. ...

Miss C. D. ...

Miss E. F. ...

Miss G. H. ...

Miss I. J. ...

Miss K. L. ...

Miss M. N. ...

Miss O. P. ...

Miss Q. R. ...

Miss S. T. ...

Miss U. V. ...

Miss W. X. ...

Miss Y. Z. ...

Miss A. B. ...

Miss C. D. ...

Miss E. F. ...

Miss G. H. ...

Miss I. J. ...

Miss K. L. ...

Miss M. N. ...

Miss O. P. ...

Miss Q. R. ...

Miss S. T. ...

Miss U. V. ...

Miss W. X. ...

Miss Y. Z. ...

Miss A. B. ...

TEACHERS WILL ENJOIN.

A Remarkable Compromise Proposed by the Merchant Creditors.

Mrs. Clara Arguello, a teacher recently dismissed from her position, filed an application yesterday for a writ of mandate, ordering the Board of Education to reinstate her in the department. Her attorneys are Judge W. L. Pierce and Henley & Costello, and she represents sixteen teachers, who were removed at the same time.

The injunction case of Ellisha Brooks, principal of the Girls' High School, against Auditor Wells, now being tried in Judge Seawell's court, was continued yesterday morning for one week on a joint motion of the attorneys. It is understood that a compromise is being arranged between the teachers and merchants, by which the teachers will withdraw their suit, permitting the merchant creditors to recover as much of the money due them as the state of the fund will allow. For this concession the merchants will loan the teachers 30 per cent of what may be recovered, and if the teachers succeed afterward in getting any of their November and December salaries they will return the loan.

Compromise Clara Feb 18, 1899

TEACHER'S SUIT IN A BAD WAY.

NO APPARENT RELIEF FOR MISS ARGUELLO.

SHE IS SEEKING LEGAL AID TO REGAIN A LOST POSITION.

Judge Seawell Renders a Decision on Demurrer Which Seems to Sustain Her Removal.

Miss Clara Arguello met with a setback yesterday in her suit against the Board of Education. She is seeking to compel the Board to restore her to her position as a teacher in the School Department. She was one of a batch of teachers appointed by the old Board at its last meeting in December, but she was subsequently removed by the new Board on January 25th.

Judge Seawell, in considering the case yesterday, overruled a demurrer to the answer filed by the Board of Education. The demurrer was based on the ground that the answer failed to state facts sufficient to constitute a defense. This ruling is important because of an allegation in the answer that Miss Arguello was appointed a regular teacher in the department at a meeting not called in accordance with law.

Miss Arguello claims her position under section 1793 of the Political Code, which forbids the removal of teachers except for insubordination or other causes enumerated in section 1792 of the same code. Judge Seawell attaches much importance to the claim of the Board that the plaintiff was never elected except as a probationary teacher. The word "probationary" does not appear in the statute, but it is taken by the Judge as indicating something that is temporary and conditional. In this view he holds that Miss Arguello is not a teacher within the meaning of section 1793.

Judge Seawell's decision on demurrer foreshadows a final decision in favor of the Board. The case, however, has still to be tried on the merits. A number of other teachers are in the same position as Miss Arguello, and on that account further proceedings in the case will be watched with more than ordinary interest.

Suit Setback Clara March 17, 1899

DISMISSED CITY SCHOOLTEACHERS ARE REINSTATED BY THE VOTES OF THREE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD

Establishing a Precedent That May Open the Doors for the Return of Ousted Appointees of Those Who Ruled Department in 1898

Clara Dropped from Rolls Clara April 5, 1902

PUTS MORE TEACHERS ON SUBSTITUTE LIST

Board of Education Assigns Ten Eligibles in the Recent Competitive Examination.

The Board of Education yesterday adopted a resolution providing that the following ten persons, being the next in order in the competitive examination, held June 17, 1905, be appointed to the day substitute list in the order of their standing, the same to take effect November 1, 1905: Alice Lynn, Kathleen Horgan, Mrs. Clara Arguello, Mrs. E. B. White, Charlotte Wheeler, Emelie Ehlers, Edith F. Bush, Frank Carr, Anna M. Chapman, Helen Murphy.

The board approved the salary demands for October and ordered them paid. Leave of absence was granted Miss Evangeline Adams. The board renewed the high school certificate of R. C. Daniels, and recommended W. F. Rignaldi to the State Board of Education for a grammar school life diploma.

Sitting as a High School Board the board adopted a resolution fixing the hour of dismissal of the pupils of the Polytechnic High School at 3 o'clock, instead of 2:30, as formerly prevailed.

Substitute Teacher Clara Oct 27, 1905

REPORT TELLS OF GOOD WORK

Langdon Says That Parental School Is Factor in Decreasing Juvenile Crime

BOARD BUYS SCHOOL SITE

Accepts Offer to Sell Lot for a New Building in Visitation Valley District

Superintendent of Schools Langdon filed yesterday with the Board of Education a report of the Parental School in charge of Principal E. D. Faulkner since its organization, showing that out of 124 boys committed to the school 113 were transferred on parole to other schools, to work, or removed from San Francisco. The total enrollment is now 116, none of whom are above the fifth grade. The total number of investigations for truancy during four months was 1674. Langdon says the Parental School is an important factor in increasing school attendance and in decreasing juvenile crime. The report, which was adopted by the board, follows:

The close proximity of the Parental School to the only public playground in San Francisco has contributed much to the success of the school. The boys spend their noon hour there and drill there twice a week under the physical director of the grounds, who also instructs them in physical culture. Manual training is the only salvation for the type of boy that is sent to the Parental School. It should, therefore, be accentuated in this school. One-half of the boys should do tool work under the direction of the teacher of manual training in the center located here. The other half should be given manual training in their classrooms by one of the regular teachers. Since no teacher now in the school is capable of giving such instruction, I recommend that one of the present teachers be transferred and some one put in her place who is capable of giving such instruction.

The board adopted a resolution reciting that the rapid increase in population since the bond issue was prepared has created an urgent need for additional school facilities in the Visitation Valley and the offer to the School Department of the sale by Thomas P. H. Whitlaw of the lot 243231 situated on Visitation avenue, in block 17, Sunnyvale Homestead Association, for the sum of $4000 be accepted, subject to approval of title.

An ungraded class was established in the Lincoln Grammar School and Mrs. W. D. Haslam was assigned to take charge of the same. Also an ungraded class in the Mission Grammar School and Miss Doyle assigned thereto.

M. J. Brock was elected a member of assigned to the Richmond Evening School, vice Mrs. W. D. Haslam, transferred.

Teachers' certificates of various kinds were granted to H. A. Rea, Donato Arribas, Helen M. Brunner, Thomas H. Vest, Willette D. Ross, Clara Arguello, E. E. Goodell, Eleanor Hart, E. C. Cordell and Eugenia B. T. Woka.

Leaves of absence were granted to Miss M. Magui, principal teacher of the Richmond Evening School, from January 1, 1905, to January 1, 1906, and to George B. Crittenden.

The request of Miss M. Magui, a member of the Department, to exchange their respective positions in the department was granted.

Certified Clara Dec 8, 1905

63 Dismissed Clara Jan 27, 1899

Grand Daughter • Claire Abducted

CHILD IS STOLEN BY HER FATHER WHILE ON HER WAY TO SCHOOL

Julius Arguello Forcibly Carries Off Daughter and Divorced Wife Wants Him Arrested.

Detective Coleman was detailed to locate the child and arrest Arguello. It appears that Arguello, who is a member of the well-known San Jose family of that name, married the mother of the child ten years ago. In 1900 the wife secured a divorce and was awarded the custody of the child. Arguello has always tried to see Claire, but the child had to love for him. For the last week he hovered in the vicinity of the school attended by the little girl and tried to induce her to go with him, saying to this he waited for her yesterday morning. He was accompanied by a woman, and when Claire passed the pair Arguello grabbed her and the woman snatched her books. Late yesterday afternoon Arguello telephoned to the home of his former wife, but she was absent. He then told her

ARGUELLO DENIES THE CHARGE OF ABDUCTION

Dramatic Scene in the Police Court Between Him and His Divorced Wife.

Julius P. Arguello, for whose arrest a warrant was issued Tuesday on a charge of abduction, walked into Judge Cabanis' court yesterday morning, leading his daughter, Claire, by the hand. He was accused by his divorced wife of abducting the little girl, who was given into the custody of the mother when the decree was granted about two years ago.

Arguello denied that he had abducted the girl, and stated that, seeing her almost shoeless and wearing clothes that were shabby, he and his present wife took her with them to their home and bought her a new outfit. He telephoned to his former wife, telling her where the child was and that she would stop at his house all night. The little girl denied to the Judge that her father had abducted her and seemed to be very fond of him. The Judge told Arguello to return in the afternoon at 3 o'clock with his wife, who was included in the charge, and he notified the other parties to be there at the same time.

At that hour all parties were in court, and the scene that ensued was at times dramatic. The divorced wife showed that she hated the present wife, who is a quiet, ladylike woman, and when Arguello said that if he had the intention of abducting the girl he would have waited till a steamer was leaving for Central America the divorced wife cried out, "Ha, ha! He has shown his hand now," and burst into a hysterical fit of laughter. The Judge continued the case till to-day and allowed Mrs. Arguello to go on $25 bail, and fixed Arguello's bonds in $500 or $100 cash.

STOLE HIS CHILD FROM HER SCHOOL.

Little Claire Arguello Was Kidnaped by Her Father.

WHILE on her way to the Agassiz School yesterday morning little Claire Arguello, aged 9, who resides with her mother and grandmother at 3228 Twenty-fourth street, was kidnaped and hurried away, crying and protesting, on a Valencia-street car. The abductors were her father, Julius J. Arguello, and a strange woman dressed in a black coat and skirt, blue waist with white dots and black hat with red velvet trimmings. Arguello, who has been divorced from his wife for two years, and who is highly connected in San Jose, had threatened to carry the girl away. Said the mother last night:

"Arguello and this woman, presumably his wife, were seen lurking about the schoolhouse Friday and again Monday, when I saw this strange woman running down the street after Claire. When I confronted her she confusedly asked where an imaginary Mrs. Adams lived, and hurried away. This morning they caught my daughter in front of the school. Her playmates saw them shake her violently. They scolded her and forced her on board a street car, the woman taking her books. Mr. Arguello was heard offering to buy fine clothes for her. She was badly frightened and was sobbing.

"Immediately I swore out warrants before Judge Cabanis for the arrest of both the parties on the charge of abduction, as the Court had awarded the exclusive custody of the child to me. She was dressed in a black dress, with red yoke and red belt, and russet leather sailor cap. She has dark brown hair and big black eyes. We have detectives out looking for the parties and are guarding against their taking the boat to-morrow for Guatemala, where we have been told Arguello has been planning to go."

Late yesterday afternoon William McKee, a brother of Mrs. Arguello, received a telephone message from Arguello to the effect that the kidnaped child would be returned to her home this morning. This, however, is believed by the family to be a ruse to pacify the child and to gain time for the escape of the abductors.

DENIES ABDUCTION STORY.

J. J. Arguello Returns His Daughter to Her Mother.

J. J. Arguello, with his wife, charged with the abduction of his daughter, Claire, from the custody of her mother, Clara Arguello, his divorced wife, was in Judge Cabanis' court yesterday with the child. The warrant had not been served on him, but after reading the story of the alleged abduction in the morning papers he had at once taken the child into court. He told Judge Cabanis that it was not his intention to abduct his daughter; that he had called at the house several times and been denied admittance and refused permission to see the child. When he saw her on the street Wednesday her shoes were worn out at the soles and her feet were wet. She had accompanied him and his present wife, he said, and at their home on Ellis street his wife had found the little one's clothing was not suitable. He permitted her to telephone her mother saying that she was all right and would be at home in the morning. The Court questioned the child closely, and in reply she denied that she had been shaken, seized or carried away, but had gone willingly, as she wanted to see her little half-brother. Arguello returned the child to her mother yesterday afternoon at her home, and at 3 o'clock all parties were in court. The mother of the child insisted that the object was abduction, but after again questioning the child the Court fixed the bond of Mrs. Josephine Arguello at $25 and that of Arguello at $500. This was given and they were released.

Abducts His Child Former San Josean Figures in Sensational Bay City Episode

Julius Arguello, who is well known in this city, where he resided for some time several years ago, and who has many relatives in San Jose and Santa Clara county, is one of the central figures in a sensational abduction case in San Francisco, as will be seen from the following appearing in a paper in that city:

Little Claire Arguello, a nine-year-old schoolgirl, was abducted by her father, Julius P. Arguello, while on her way to the Agassiz Primary School yesterday morning. According to her schoolmates, Claire made an outcry and tried to get away, but her abductor held her firmly and despite her protest carried her to a Valencia-street car and when last seen was on his way downtown.

Arguello was accompanied by a strange woman dressed in a black coat and skirt, blue waist with white dots and black hat with red velvet trimmings.

It appears that Arguello, who is a member of the well-known San Jose family of that name, married the mother of the child ten years ago. In 1900 the wife secured a divorce and was awarded the custody of the child. Arguello has always tried to see Claire, but the child had to love for him. For the last week he hovered in the vicinity of the school attended by the little girl and tried to induce her to go with him.

Yesterday afternoon Arguello telephoned to the home of his former wife, but she was absent. He then told her brother that Claire was safe and he would return her today. This only made the family more anxious to learn of his whereabouts. They fear that he is trying to delude them and will leave for South America. Arguello told a friend named H. U. Jones that he had married a wealthy woman and was going away on a long trip.

Mrs. Clara Arguello, who lives at 3228 Twenty-fourth street, mother of the child, was heartbroken when she learned of the trick played on her by her divorced husband. She immediately visited the Hall of Justice and swore to a warrant for his arrest on the charge of abduction.

LITTLE GIRL WHO WAS ABDUCTED BY HER FATHER WHILE ON HER WAY TO SCHOOL YESTERDAY MORNING AND HER PARENTS, WHOSE MARITAL DIFFERENCES CULMINATED IN A DIVORCE, THE MOTHER BEING AWARDED THE CUSTODY OF THE CHILD.

LITTLE Claire Arguello, a nine-year-old schoolgirl, was abducted by her father, Julius P. Arguello, while on her way to the Agassiz Primary School yesterday morning. According to her schoolmates, Claire made an outcry and tried to get away, but her abductor held her firmly and despite her protest carried her to a Valencia-street car and when last seen was on his way downtown. Mrs. Clara Arguello, who lives at 3228 Twenty-fourth street, mother of the child, was heartbroken when she learned of the trick played on her by her divorced husband. She immediately visited the Hall of Justice and swore to a warrant for his arrest on the charge of abduction. Detective Coleman was detailed to locate the child and arrest Arguello. It appears that Arguello, who is a member of the well-known San Jose family of that name, married the mother of the child ten years ago. In 1900 the wife secured a divorce and was awarded the custody of the child. Arguello has always tried to see Claire, but the child had to love for him. For the last week he hovered in the vicinity of the school attended by the little girl and tried to induce her to go with him, saying to this he waited for her yesterday morning. He was accompanied by a woman, and when Claire passed the pair Arguello grabbed her and the woman snatched her books. Late yesterday afternoon Arguello telephoned to the home of his former wife, but she was absent. He then told her brother that Claire was safe and he would return her today. This only made the family more anxious to learn of his whereabouts. They fear that he is trying to delude them and will leave for South America. Arguello told a friend named H. U. Jones that he had married a wealthy woman and was going away on a long trip. The mother claiming that Arguello abducted the child to marry and spite her.

January 22, 1902 • Child is Stolen by her Father While on her Way to School

San Francisco Call, Wednesday, January 22, 1902

CHILD IS STOLEN BY HER FATHER WHILE ON HER WAY TO SCHOOL

Julius Arguello Forcibly Carries Off Daughter and Divorced Wife Wants Him Arrested

LITTLE GIRL WHO WAS ABDUCTED BY HER FATHER WHILE ON HER WAY TO SCHOOL YESTERDAY MORNING AND HER PARENTS, WHOSE MARITAL DIFFERENCES CULMINATED IN A DIVORCE, THE MOTHER BEING AWARDED THE CUSTODY OF THE CHILD.

Little Claire Arguello, a nine-year-old schoolgirl, was abducted by her father, Julius P. Arguello, while on her way to the Agassiz Primary School yesterday morning.

According to her schoolmates, Claire made an outcry and tried to get away, but her abductor held her firmly and despite her protest carried her to a Valencia-street car and when last seen was on his way downtown. Mrs. Clara Arguello, who lives at 2328 Twenty-fourth street, mother of the child, was heartbroken when she learned of the trick played on her by her divorced husband. She immediately visited the Hall of Justice and swore to a warrant for his arrest on the charge of abduction.

Detective Coleman was detailed to locate the child and arrest Arguello.

It appears that Arguello, who is a member of the well-known San Jose family of that name, married the mother of the child ten years ago.

In 1900 the wife secured a divorce and was awarded the custody of the child. Arguello has always tried to see Claire, but the child had no love for him.

For the last week, he hovered in the vicinity of the school attended by the little girl and tried to induce her to go with him. Failing in this he waited for her yesterday morning. He was accompanied by a woman and when Claire passed the pair Arguello grabbed her and the woman snatched her books.

Late yesterday afternoon Arguello telephoned to the home of his former wife, but she was absent. He then told her brother that Claire was safe and he would return her today. This only made the family more anxious to learn of his whereabouts. They fear that he is trying to delude them and will leave for South America. Arguello told a friend named H. U. Jones that he had married a wealthy woman and was going away on a long trip.

The mother claims that Arguello abducted the child to annoy and spite her.

STOLE HIS CHILD FROM HER SCHOOL.

Little Claire Arguello Was Kidnaped by Her Father.

WHILE on her way to the Agassiz School yesterday morning little Claire Arguello, aged 9, who resides with her mother and grandmother at 3328 Twenty-fourth street, was kidnaped and hurried away, crying and protesting, on a Valencia-street car. The abductors were her father, Julius J. Arguello, and a strange woman dressed in a black coat and skirt, blue waist with white dots and black hat with red velvet trimmings. Arguello, who has been divorced from his wife for two years, and who is highly connected in San Jose, had threatened to carry the girl away. Said the mother last night:

"Arguello and this woman, presumably his wife, were seen lurking about the schoolhouse Friday and again Monday, when I saw this strange woman running down the street after Claire. When I confronted her she confusedly asked where an imaginary Mrs. Adams lived, and hurried away. This morning they caught my daughter in front of the school. Her playmates saw them shake her violently. They scolded her and forced her on board a street car, the woman taking her books. Mr. Arguello was heard offering to buy fine clothes for her. She was badly frightened and was sobbing.

"Immediately I swore out warrants before Judge Cabaniss for the arrest of both the parties on the charge of abduction, as the Court had awarded the exclusive custody of the child to me. She was dressed in a black dress with red yoke and red belt, and russet leather sailor cap. She has dark brown hair and big black eyes. We have detectives out looking for the parties and are guarding against their taking the boat to-morrow for Guatemala, where we have been told Arguello has been planning to go."

Late yesterday afternoon William McKee, a brother of Mrs. Arguello, received a telephone message from Arguello to the effect that the kidnaped child would be returned to her home this morning. This, however, is believed by the family to be a ruse to pacify the child and to gain time for the escape of the abductors.

San Francisco Chronicle, January 22, 1902 Page 8 STOLE HIS CHILD FROM HER SCHOOL

Little Claire Arguello Was Kidnaped by Her Father

While on her way to the Agassiz school yesterday morning little Claire Arguello, age 8 who resides with her mother and grandmother at 3328 24th St. was kidnapped and hurried away crying and protesting, on a Valencia Street car. The abductors were her father,

Julius J. Arguello, and a strange woman dressed in a black coat and skirt, blue waist with white dots and black hat with red velvet trimmings. Arguello, who has been divorced from his wife for two years, and who is highly connected in San Jose, had threatened to carry the girl away. Said the mother last night:

"Arguello and this woman, presumably his wife, were seen lurking about the schoolhouse Friday and again Monday, when I saw this strange woman running down the street after Claire. When I confronted her she confusedly asked where an imaginary Mrs. Adams lived, and hurried away. This morning they caught my daughter in front of the school. Her playmates saw them shake her violently. The scolded her and forced her on board a street car, the woman taking her books. Mr. Arguello was heard offering to buy fine clothes for her. She was badly frightened and was sobbing.

"Immediately I swore out warrants before Judge Cabaniss for the arrest of both parties on the charge of abduction, as a court had awarded the exclusive custody of the child to me. She was dressed in a black dress with red yolk and red belt and russet leather sailor cap. She has dark brown hair and big black eyes. We have detectives out looking for the parties and are guarding against they're taking the boat tomorrow for Guatemala, where we have been told Arguello has been planning to go"

Late yesterday afternoon William McKee, brother of Mrs. Arguello received a telephone message from Arguello to the effect that the kidnaped child would be returned to the home this morning. This however is believed by the family to be a ruse to pacify the child and to gain time for the escape of the abductors.

DENIES ABDUCTION STORY.

J. J. Arguello Returns His Daughter to Her Mother.

J. J. Arguello, with his wife, charged with the abduction of his daughter, Clare, from the custody of her mother, Clara Arguello, his divorced wife, was in Judge Cabaniss' court yesterday with the child. The warrant had not been served on him, but after reading the story of the alleged abduction in the morning papers he had at once taken the child into court. He told Judge Cabaniss that it was not his intention to abduct his daughter; that he had called at the house several times and been denied admittance and refused permission to see the child. When he saw her on the street Wednesday her shoes were worn out at the soles and her feet were wet. She had accompanied him and his present wife, he said, and at their home on Ellis street his wife had found the little one's clothing was not suitable. He permitted her to telephone her mother saying that she was all right and would be at home in the morning. The Court questioned the child closely, and in reply she denied that she had been shaken, seized or carried away, but had gone willingly, as she wanted to see her little half-brother. Arguello returned the child to her mother yesterday afternoon at her home, and at 8 o'clock all parties were in court. The mother of the child insisted that the object was abduction, but after again questioning the child the Court fixed the bond of Mrs. Josephine Arguello at $25 and that of Arguello at $500. This was given and they were released.

San Francisco Chronicle, January 23, 1902 Page 8 DENIES ABDUCTION STORY.

J. J. Arguello returns his daughter to her mother

J. J. Arguello, with his wife, charged with the abduction of his daughter, Clare from the custody of her mother, Clara Arguello, his divorced wife, was in Judge Cabaniss court yesterday with the child. The warrant had not been served on him but after reading the story of the alleged abduction in the morning papers he had at once taken the child into court. He told judge that it was not his intention to abduct his daughter; that he had called at the house several times and been denied admittance and refused permission to see the child. When he saw her on the street Wednesday her shoes were worn out at the soles and her feet were wet. She had accompanied him and his present wife, he said, and at their home on Ellis street his wife had found the little one's clothing was not suitable. He permitted her to telephone her mother saying that she was all right and would be at home in the morning. The court questioned the child closely, and in reply she denied that she had been shaken, seized or carried away, but had gone willingly, as she wanted to see her little half-brother. Arguello returned the child to her mother yesterday afternoon at her home, and at 8 o'clock all parties were in court. The mother of the child insisted that the object was abduction, but after again questioning the child the Court fixed the bond of Mrs. Josephine Arguello at $25 and that of Arguello at $500. This was given and they were released.

Arguello Denies the Charge of Abduction

San Francisco Call, January 22, 1902 Page 8

ARGUELLO DENIES THE CHARGE OF ABDUCTION

Dramatic Scene in the Police Court Between Him and his Divorced Wife

Julius P. Arguello, for whose arrest a warrant was issued Tuesday on a charge of abduction, walked into Judge Cabanis' court yesterday morning, leading his daughter, Claire, by the hand. He was accused by his divorced wife of abducting the little girl, who was given into the custody of the mother when the decree was granted about two years ago.

Arguello denied that he had abducted the girl and stated that, seeing her almost shoeless, and wearing clothes that were shabby, he and his present wife took her with them to their house and bought her a new outfit. He telephoned to his former wife, telling her where the child was and that she would stay at his house all night. The little girl denied to the judge that her father had abducted her and seemed to be very fond of him.

The Judge told Arguello to return in the afternoon at 3 o'clock with his wife, who is included in the charge and he notified the other parties to be there at the same time.

At that hour all parties were in court, and the scene that ensued was at times dramatic.

The divorced wife showed that she hated the present wife, who is a quiet, lady like woman, and when Arguello said that if he had the intention of abducting the girl he would have waited till a steamer was leaving for Central America the divorced wife cried out "Ha, ha! He has shown his hand now." And burst into a hysterical fit of laughter.

The Judge continued the case till to-day and allowed Mrs. Arguello to go on $25 bail, and fixed Arguello's bonds in $500 or $100 cash.

ARGUELLO DENIES THE CHARGE OF ABDUCTION

Dramatic Scene in the Police Court Between Him and His Divorced Wife.

Julius P. Arguello, for whose arrest a warrant was issued Tuesday on a charge of abduction, walked into Judge Cabanis' court yesterday morning, leading his daughter, Claire, by the hand. He was accused by his divorced wife of abducting the little girl, who was given into the custody of the mother when the decree was granted about two years ago.

Arguello denied that he had abducted the girl, and stated that, seeing her almost shoeless and wearing clothes that were shabby, he and his present wife took her with them to their home and bought her a new outfit. He telephoned to his former wife, telling her where the child was and that she would stop at his house all night. The little girl denied to the Judge that her father had abducted her and seemed to be very fond of him. The Judge told Arguello to return in the afternoon at 3 o'clock with his wife, who was included in the charge, and he notified the other parties to be there at the same time.

At that hour all parties were in court, and the scene that ensued was at times dramatic. The divorced wife showed that she hated the present wife, who is a quiet, ladylike woman, and when Arguello said that if he had the intention of abducting the girl he would have waited till a steamer was leaving for Central America the divorced wife cried out, "Ha, ha! He has shown his hand now," and burst into a hysterical fit of laughter. The Judge continued the case till to-day and allowed Mrs. Arguello to go on $25 bail, and fixed Arguello's bonds in $500 or $100 cash.

Abducts His Child

Former San Josean Figures in Sensational Bay City Episode

Julius Arguello, who is well known in this city, where he resided for some time several years ago, and who has many relatives in San Jose and Santa Clara county, is one of the central figures in a sensational abduction case in San Francisco, as will be seen from the following appearing in a paper in that city:

Little Claire Arguello, a nine-year-old schoolgirl, was abducted by her father, Julius P. Arguello, while on her way to the Agassiz Primary School yesterday morning. According to her schoolmates, Claire made an outcry and tried to get away, but her abductor held her firmly and despite her protest carried her to a Valencia-street car and when last seen was on his way downtown.

Arguello was accompanied by a strange woman dressed in a black coat and skirt, blue waist with white dots and black hat with red velvet trimmings.

It appears that Arguello, who is a member of the well-known San Jose family of that name, married the mother of the child ten years ago. In 1900 the wife secured a divorce and was awarded the custody of the child. Arguello has always tried to see Claire, but the child had no love for him. For the last week he hovered in the vicinity of the school attended by the little girl and tried to induce her to go with him.

Failing in this he waited for her yesterday morning. He was accompanied by the woman described and when Claire passed the pair Arguello grabbed her and the woman snatched her books.

Mrs. Clara Arguello, who lives at 3328 Twenty-fourth street, mother of the child, was heartbroken when she learned of the trick played on her by her divorced husband. She immediately visited the Hall of Justice and swore to a warrant for his arrest on the charge of abduction.

Said the mother last night:

"Arguello and this woman, presumably his wife, were seen lurking about the schoolhouse Friday and again Monday, when I saw this strange woman running down the street after Claire. When I confronted her she confusedly asked where an imaginary Mrs. Adams lived, and hurried away. This morning they caught my daughter in front of the school. Her playmates saw them shake her violently. They scolded her and forced her on board a street car, the woman taking her books. Mr. Arguello was heard offering to buy fine clothes for her. She was badly frightened and was sobbing.

"Immediately I swore out warrants before Judge Cabaniss for the arrest of both the parties on the charge of abduction, as the Court had awarded the exclusive custody of the child to me. She was dressed in a black dress with red yoke and red belt, and russet leather sailor cap. She has dark brown hair and black eyes. We have detectives out looking for the parties and are guarding against their taking the boat tomorrow for Guatemala, where we have been told Arguello has been planning to go."

Detective Coleman was detailed to locate the child and arrest Arguello.

Late yesterday afternoon Arguello telephoned to the home of his former wife, but she was absent. He then told her brother that Claire was safe and he would return her today. This only made the family more anxious to learn of his whereabouts. They fear that he is trying to delude them and will leave for South America. Arguello told a friend named H. U. Jones that he had married a wealthy woman and was going away on a long trip.

San Jose Evening News, January 22, 1902 Page

Abducts His Child

Former San Jose Figures in Sensational Bay City Episode

Julius Arguello, who is well known in this city, where he resided for sometime several years ago, and who has many relatives in Santa Clara County, is one of the central figures in a sensational abduction case in San Francisco. As will be seen from the following appearing in a paper in that city. Little Claire Arguello a nine year old school girl was abducted by her father, Julius P. Arguello, while on her way to the Agassiz primary school yesterday morning.

According to her schoolmates Claire made an outcry and tried to get away but her abductor held her firmly and despite her protest carried her to a Valencia Street car and when last scene was on his way downtown.

Arguello was accompanied by a strange woman dressed in a black coat and skirt, blue waist with white dots and black hat with red velvet trimmings.

It appears that Arguello, who is a member of the well-known San Jose family of that name, Mary the mother of the child 10 years ago. In 1900 the wife security divorce and was awarded the custody of the child. Arguello has always tried to see Claire but the child had no love for him. For the last week he hovered in the vicinity of the school attended by the little girl and try to induce her to go with him.

Failing in this, he waited for her yesterday morning. He was accompanied by the woman described and when Claire passed the pair Arguello grabbed her and the woman snatched her books.

Mrs. Claire Arguello who lives at 3328 24th Street, mother of the child, was heartbroken when she learned of the trick played on her by her divorced husband. She immediately visited the Hall of Justice and swore to a warrant for his arrest on the charge of abduction.

Said the mother last night:

"Arguello and this woman, presumably his wife, were seen lurking about the school house Friday and again Monday, when I saw this strange woman running down the street after Claire. When I confronted her she confusedly asked where in an imaginary Mrs. Adams lived, and hurried away. This morning they caught my daughter in front of the school. Her playmates saw them shake her violently. They scolded her and forced her on board a street car, the woman taking her books. Mr. Arguello was heard offering to buy fine clothes for her. She was badly frightened and was sobbing.

"Immediately I swore at warrant before a judge Cabaniss for the arrest of both parties on the charge of abduction as the Court had awarded the exclusive custody of the child to me. She was dressed in a black dress with red yolk and red belt and russet leather sailor cap. She has dark brown hair and black eyes. We have detectives out looking for the parties and are guarding against their taking the boat tomorrow for Guatemala, where we have been told Arguello has been planning to go."

Detective Coleman was detailed to locate the child and arrest Arguello.

Late yesterday afternoon Arguello telephoned to the home of his former wife, but she was absent. He then told her brother that Claire was safe and he would return her today. This only made the family more anxious to learn of his whereabouts. They fear that he is trying to delude them and will leave for South America. Arguello told a friend named H. U. Jones that he had married a wealthy woman and was going away on a long trip.

85
80
75
70
65
60
55
50
45
40 35
30
25
20
15
10
5
0

James H McKee - 80
1833 - October 17, 1913

Mary T McKee - 68
1836 - Aug 15, 1904

Theodore Wiltz - 82
1861 - Nov 3, 1943

Richard Bennett - 69
1870 - May 19, 1939

Hannah (Hattie) - 83
1882 - Sept 11, 1955

Marie T Wiltz - 82
1893 - Nov 24, 1975

William Andrew - 71
1880 - April 30, 1955

Clara L - 64
1871 - Nov 13, 1936

Julius J Arguello - 52
1870 - Feb 14, 1922

Eva M - 52
1867 - June 13, 1919

Clara M - ?
Cortelyou
1893 - X, 19??

Mary C - 37
Wiltz
1862 - May 3, 1899

Thomas Joseph - 35
1867 - Sept 25, 1904?

Marion Genevieve - 18
1900 - May 5, 1918

Son of William & Harriet
b. & d. Dec 24, 1918

5 Isabel Alice
@ 3 months
1873

Wm J
@ 12 days
1876

Clara M Wiltz
@ 3 mos, 21 days
July 27, 1891

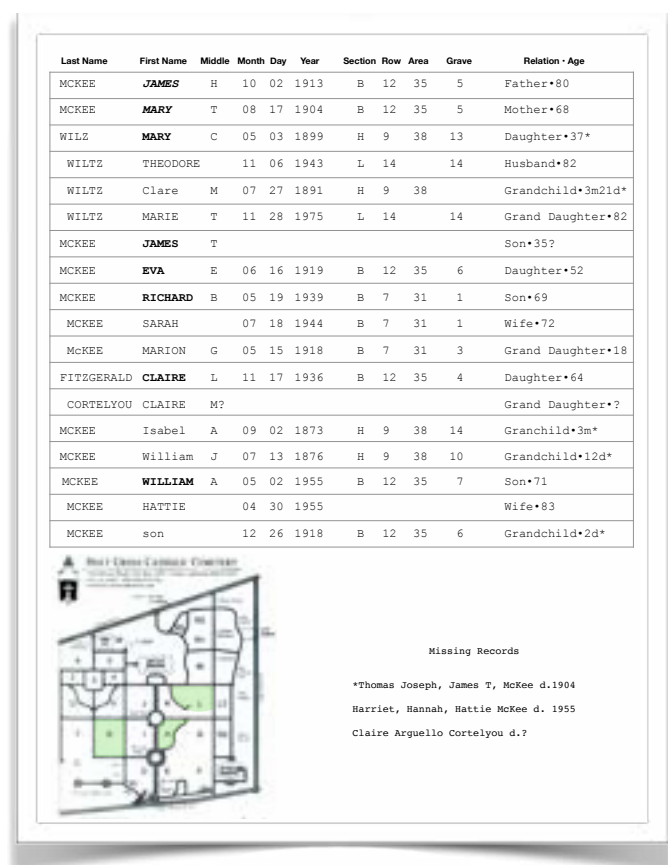

DEATHS

1873 1874 1875 1876 1877 1878 1879 1880 1881 1882 1883 1884 1885 1886 1887 1888 1889 1890 1891 1892 1893 1894 1895 1896 1897 1898 1899 1900 1901 1902 1903 1904 1905 1906 1907 1908 1909 1910 1911 1912 1913 1914 1915 1916 1917 1918 1919 1920 1921 1922 1923 1924 1925 1926 1927 1928 1929 1930 1931 1932 1933 1934 1935 1936 1937 1938 1939 1940 1941 1942 1943 1944 1945 1946 1947 1948 1949 1950 1951 1952 1953 1954 1955 1956 1957 1958 1959 1960 1961 1962 1963 1964 1965 1975

Colma Cemetary Records

HOLY CROSS

	Last Name	First Name	Middle	Month	Day	Year	Section	Row	Area	Grave	Collection
Father • 80	MCKEE	JAMES	H	10	02	1913	B	12	35	5	HOLY CROSS
Mother • 68	MCKEE	MARY	T	08	17	1904	B	12	35	5	HOLY CROSS
Daughter • 37	WILZ	MARY	C	05	03	1899	H	9	38	13	HOLY CROSS*
Husband (in-law) • 82	WILTZ	THEODORE		11	06	1943	L	14	14		HOLY CROSS
Grandchild • 3m 21d	WILTZ	Clare	M	07	27	1891	H	9	38		HOLY CROSS*
Grand Daughter • 82	WILTZ	MARIE	T	11	28	1975	L	14	14		HOLY CROSS
Son • 35?	MCKEE	JAMES	T
Daughter • 52	MCKEE	EVA	E	06	16	1919	B	12	35	6	HOLY CROSS
Son • 69	MCKEE	RICHARD	B	05	19	1939	B	7	31	1	HOLY CROSS
Wife (in-law) • 72	MCKEE	SARAH		07	18	1944	B	7	31	1	HOLY CROSS
Grand Daughter • 18	McKEE	MARION	G	05	15	1918	B	7	31	3	HOLY CROSS
Daughter • 64	FITZGERALD	CLARA	L	11	17	1936	B	12	35	4	HOLY CROSS
Grand Daughter • ?	CORTELYOU	CLAIRE
Daughter • 3m	MCKEE	Isabel	A	09	02	1873	H	9	38	14	HOLY CROSS*
Son • 12d	MCKEE	William	J	07	13	1876	H	9	38	10	HOLY CROSS*
Son • 71	MCKEE	WILLIAM	A	05	02	1955	B	12	35	7	HOLY CROSS
Wife (in-law) • 83	MCKEE	HATTIE		04	30	1955					CYPRESS LAWN
Grandchild • 2d	MCKEE	son		12	26	1918	B	12	35	6	HOLY CROSS*

Portable Holy Cross Map

Infant Death

Spouse

Grandchildren

3328 Twenty-Fourth Street @ Osage Alley

Source Materials & Goodies @ www.juniorhansenjr.ninja/homehistory